Mack Brown

Success with integrity has been the theme of the 36 years of collegiate coaching for Texas Longhorns head football coach Mack Brown.

In his 25 years as a head coach, Brown has produced winning programs everywhere he has been. His path over the past 13 football seasons has taken him and his teams to the pinnacle of his sport, topped off by his unbeaten and National Championship team in 2005.

The 2008 Bobby Dodd Coach of the Year and the 2005 Paul "Bear" Bryant National Coach of the Year, Brown is the only coach in the country to produce teams that have won at least 10 games in each of the last eight years, which is the second-longest streak in NCAA history. Counting his final two seasons at North Carolina, he is also the only coach to lead his teams to at least nine wins in each of the last 13 seasons. In addition, his Longhorns are the only team in the country to rank in the Top 15 of the final BCS poll in each of the last 10 years. Brown ranks second to Florida State's Bobby Bowden in consecutive winning seasons with 19 and consecutive bowl appearances with 17.

During his 11 seasons at Texas, Brown has taken a program coming off a 4-7 season and five non-winning seasons in the 10 years prior to his arrival to a UT-record 11 straight bowl games along with five Top Six finishes and 10 Top 15 finishes. The Longhorns also have an active streak of five consecutive bowl wins, which is a UT first, including three BCS bowl victories over Michigan (2005 Rose), USC (2006 Rose) and Ohio State (2009 Fiesta). The dramatic 41-38 victory over No. 1 USC in the BCS National Championship game gave the Longhorns their first National Championship since 1970.

Brown's UT teams have won or tied for the Big 12 South Division title five times, and his 115 victories in his 11 seasons rank him second only to Darrell Royal. He also is one of only nine active coaches at NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) schools who have won 100 games at their current school. Of the 79 coaches that have ever won 100 games at a FBS school, Brown is the 13th-fastest to reach the century mark (124 games) and the second-fastest among active coaches. In 2008, he reached 200 career victories, making him just the 19th coach to do so. His 201 wins rank fifth among FBS active coaches and 16th on the FBS all-time list.

Brown's Longhorns, who recorded 21 straight victories during the 2005-07 seasons (second-longest streak in UT history), have won 56 of their last 64 games. The 21 consecutive wins is the best Longhorn mark since Darrell Royal's Wishbone-era team won 30 straight games and 33 of 34 between 1968 and 1971. Brown's teams have also produced Texas' only 13-win (2005), 12-win (2008) and back-to-back 11-win seasons (twice, 2001-02 and 2004-05).

With four of his last eight teams ranked among the Top Five nationally prior to this season, Brown has become one of only a handful of coaches in NCAA history to lead two different teams into the elite Top Five. Brown, whose 1997 North Carolina team was ranked No. 4 nationally, is only the second to do it within a five-year period, and the only man to accomplish it so quickly in the post-World War II era.

During his last 17 years (11 at Texas/six at UNC), Brown has engineered trips to 17 bowl games, 11 seasons with 10-plus wins, 15 years of nine-plus victories, 15 Top 25 rankings and 169 victories.

Brown's Longhorns squads have featured a Heisman Trophy winner and two runners-up, two Maxwell Award winners, two WCFF Player of the Year Award winners, two Doak Walker Award winners, two Thorpe Award winners, two Nagurski Trophy winners, a Butkus Award winner, a Lombardi Award winner, a Manning Award winner, a Hendricks Award winner, a Draddy Trophy winner, 42 All-Americans, 59 first-team All-Big 12 selections, four Big 12 Offensive Players of the Year, five Big 12 Defensive Players of the Year and 10 Big 12 Freshman of the Year honorees.

In 25 years as a head coach, the NFL has drafted 92 of Brown's student-athletes, including 18 (14 Texas/four North Carolina) who have been selected in the first round in the past 12 NFL drafts. Under Brown, 42 Longhorns have been drafted and Texas has led the nation in both Top Five (six) and Top 10 (eight) picks. As of July 2009, there were 47 active Longhorns in the NFL, including six newcomers, and 30 have started games. In the last four years alone, 11 Longhorns have participated in the Super Bowl and 11 have been in the Pro Bowl.

The Longhorns have been equally impressive off the field with 84 of Texas' 99 (84.9%) seniors under Brown having graduated as of spring 2009, including 26 of 29 (89.7%) from the 2005 National Championship team. The Longhorns have led the Big 12 in academic all-conference selections for three straight seasons, and for the past two years have had equal or more first-team selections than any other Big 12 school has had total selections.

In addition, C Dallas Griffin won the Draddy Award, which is also known as the "academic Heisman" in 2007, and both Griffin and DT Derek Lokey earned ESPN The Magazine first-team Academic All-America honors that year, while RB Chris Ogbonnaya was named to the second team in 2008. In the last two years, 18 players have earned the Provost Award for a 4.0 GPA, and the Longhorns have had at least 40 players earn a 3.0 GPA or better in seven of the last eight semesters.

A native of Cookeville, Tenn., Brown played his college football at Vanderbilt and Florida State, and began his coaching career as an assistant at Southern Mississippi in 1975. He followed that with stops at Memphis State, Iowa State and LSU. He served as head coach at Appalachian State, offensive coordinator at Oklahoma and as head coach at Tulane before beginning a stint at North Carolina where he took the Tar Heels from a 2-20 beginning to a contender for the National Championship 10 years later. His 1996 UNC team finished ranked 10th in the country, and in 1997, they were fourth nationally.

Mack Brown with Lynn Swann, Joe Paterno and Bill Powers as Brown was honored by UT with a Distinguished Chair for Leadership in Global Affairs

Brown is a member of the American Football Coaches Association Board of Directors and, following the 2005 National Championship season, was honored by UT with the Mack Brown Distinguished Chair for Leadership in Global Affairs. He is one of a very few coaches in college football history to be endowed with such a chair. In May 2009, Brown went on an eight-day trip to visit U.S. troops in Germany, Turkey, Iraq, Kuwait, Djibouti and Spain as part of the Coaches Tour 2009.

Brown and his wife, Sally, are active in the Austin community, serving as honorary co-chairpersons of the Capital Campaign for the Helping Hands of Austin, and have been instrumental in The Rise School of Austin (an early childhood education program that integrates children who have disabilities with their typically developing peers), serving on the school's Board of Directors. They lend their name along with legendary Texas QB James Street to the annual James Street/Mack Brown Golf Tournament benefiting the school.

The Browns contribute privately to numerous other causes in Austin, and in September 2008, they were named the Citizens of the Year for Caritas of Austin, which provides meals and aid for the homeless. The Browns themselves have spent many hours serving food at Caritas.

Mack and Sally Brown have four children, Matt, Katherine, Barbara and Chris.

Darrell Royal and Mack Brown with the National Championship trophy

"I don't want this to be the best thing that's ever happened in your life. When you're 54, I don't want you to say, 'Winning a football game is the best thing that ever happened in my life.' You'll have it and you'll be a champion for the rest of your life. You make sure that's one of the best sports things in your life, but you promise me that if you have enough about you to win a National Championship, then you have enough about you to be a great citizen, a great role model, a great father and a great leader in your family. That's what we're looking for when you get out of here."

^ National Champions
* as a player

A 37-year coaching veteran, Greg Davis is in his 12th year as offensive coordinator/QBs coach at Texas. As the architect of one of the nation's premier offensive attacks at Texas the past 11 years, Davis has earned national respect and accolades. He was honored as the nation's top assistant coach with the Frank Broyles Award after a record-setting 2005 campaign. Texas has had just four QBs start a game in the NFL, and Davis has tutored two of them (Chris Simms, Vince Young).

Under his guidance, the Longhorns have produced nine of the top 10 passing seasons, 10 of the top 12 total offense seasons and the eight top scoring campaigns in UT history. In 2005, UT set season records for total offense (6,657) and points (652/No. 3 NCAA history). His offense has produced 39 of the 62 500-yard total offense efforts in school history, including four of the top six and a school-best 692 yards (vs. Rice, 1998).

Davis' UT offense has produced four Big 12 Offensive Players of the Year — RB Ricky Williams, 1998; QB Major Applewhite, 1999; QB Vince Young, 2005; QB Colt McCoy, 2008. During his 11 years at UT, he has tutored 31 first-team All-Big 12 performers and 51 others who have earned recognition among the All-Big 12 second, third and honorable mention teams.

As UT's quarterbacks coach, Davis has tutored two runners-up for the Heisman Trophy, a Walter Camp Football Foundation Player of the Year, a Sporting News Player of the Year, a Maxwell Award winner, Davey O'Brien Award winner and Manning Award winner, two winners of the Archie Griffin Award, two finalists for the Maxwell Award, Manning Award and Davey O'Brien Award, four Big 12 Offensive Players of the Year and three QBs that earned league Freshman of the Year honors.

A 1973 graduate of McNeese State, Davis has coached on the high school level in Louisiana and Texas, while making stops in the college ranks at Texas A&M, Tulane, Arkansas, Georgia and North Carolina. Davis was the head coach at Tulane from 1988-91.

He and his wife, Patsy, have two children, Greg Jr. (RBs coach at Tulane) and Stacey, and five grandchildren. Greg Jr. and his wife, Karen, have two daughters, Taylor and Kaylen. Stacey and her husband, Kory, have three children, daughter, Brook, and sons, K.J. and Davis.

Davis has coached four of the top six quarterbacks on UT's career passing list including Major Applewhite (pictured), Chris Simms, Vince Young (right) and Colt McCoy (far right).

Under Davis' guidance, two UT quarterbacks, Chris Simms and Vince Young, have gone on to start games in the NFL.

Davis helped Colt McCoy claim the Walter Camp Player of the Year award in 2008.

A 14-year coaching veteran who has coordinated successful defenses at both the collegiate and NFL levels, Will Muschamp joined the Texas staff in January 2008 as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach and begins his second season at UT. In November of 2008, Muschamp was named head coach designate and agreed to remain at Texas as defensive coordinator and eventually succeed Mack Brown.

Muschamp is considered one of the nation's premier defensive coordinators and was a 2007 Broyles Award Finalist (nation's top assistant coach). He joined the Texas staff after spending the previous two years as defensive coordinator at Auburn and six years prior to that as a defensive coordinator in college and the NFL.

In Muschamp's first season, the Longhorns' aggressive defense led the nation in sacks (3.62 spg), ranked third in rushing defense (83.5 ypg) and 18th in scoring defense (18.8 ppg), despite playing in the explosive Big 12. Texas led the conference in scoring defense, total defense and rushing defense and was second in pass efficiency defense. The defense's leader was DE Brian Orakpo, who claimed the Nagurski Trophy, the Lombardi Award, the Hendricks Award and Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year honors, while becoming UT's 19th unanimous All-American. The linebackers excelled under Muschamp with junior Roddrick Muckelroy leading the team in tackles with 112 and earning second-team All-Big 12 honors. Junior Sergio Kindle was named first-team All-Big 12 after amassing 10 sacks and 14 TFL as part of 53 tackles, and junior Jared Norton was fourth on the team with 54 tackles. He also helped guide two freshman safeties into starting positions, where Earl Thomas would earn first-team Freshman All-America honors and Blake Gideon would be named second-team Freshman All-America.

In his five years as a coordinator at Auburn and LSU, Muschamp's defenses ranked among the nation's top 10 in total defense five times and scoring defense three times, while ranking in the top 15 in scoring defense the other two.

Muschamp spent the 2005 season in the NFL, serving as the Miami Dolphins assistant head coach for defense. He led the Dolphins to top 10 rankings in yards per play (4.7/7th), yards per rush (3.7/7th) and yards per pass (6.0/9th) and Miami ranked second in the NFL in sacks (49) that year.

Prior to his stop in the NFL, Muschamp coached at LSU from 2001-04, serving as defensive coordinator from 2002-04. During his tenure, LSU won the 2003 National Championship and two SEC titles (2001, 2003). His defense led the nation in total defense (252.0 ypg) and scoring defense (11.0 ppg) during the championship season. That unit topped the SEC in every major defensive category and also ranked second nationally in pass efficiency defense (89.8 rating) and third in rushing defense (67.0 ypg).

The 1994 Georgia graduate was a four-year lettermen at safety for the Bulldogs (1991-94) where he was teammates with current UT football staff members George Wynn and Donnie Maib. Current UT coaches Greg Davis and Mac McWhorter also served on the Georgia coaching staff during that period. Muschamp was selected as a defensive co-captain as a senior and was a part of two bowl teams. He also earned a spot on the SEC Academic Honor Roll in 1993.

A native of Rome, Ga., Muschamp and his wife, Carol, have two sons, Jackson and Whit.

Muschamp helped LB Sergio Kindle earn first-team All-Big 12 honors in 2008.

Muschamp was a 2007 Broyles Award finalist for the nation's top assistant coach.

Muschamp has served as a defensive coordinator in both college and the NFL.

A 31-year coaching veteran who has spent 21 of his seasons as an assistant working with defensive backs, Duane Akina has tutored three Thorpe Award winners, five Thorpe Award finalists and 24 defensive backs who have played in the NFL. He brought his talent and technique to Texas eight years ago.

In his eight seasons at UT, Akina's secondary has helped the Horns rank among the nation's Top 10 in pass defense four times and featured consecutive Jim Thorpe Award winners in Michael Huff (2005) and Aaron Ross (2006) to go along with nine first-team All-Big 12 picks. Eight of the Texas DBs he has tutored are currently in the NFL.

Akina joined the UT program after spending the previous 14 seasons at Arizona, where he served as the associate head coach and was tabbed defensive coordinator in December 2000. During his tenure at Arizona, he was a versatile coach who worked with both sides of the ball. Akina spent his final five seasons as defensive backs coach and nine of his 14 seasons working with the Wildcats' secondary. He also was UA's offensive coordinator from 1992-95.

A native of Honolulu, Akina is a 1979 graduate of the University of Washington. He earned three letters as a quarterback, and upon completing his eligibility, served as a graduate assistant coach at UW.

Hawaii's Prep Athlete of the Year at Honolulu's Punahou High School in 1974-75, he was a three-time all-league selection as a quarterback in football and a guard in basketball. Akina and his wife, Donna, have five children, Kainoa, Keoni, Dionicia, Alli and Kamalii. Kainoa has a wife, Daya.

Akina has coached 24 defensive backs who have gone on to play in the NFL.

Akina helped Longhorns Aaron Ross (left) and Michael Huff win back-to-back Thorpe Awards in 2005 and '06.

A record-setting quarterback at UT and former graduate assistant coach for Mack Brown, Major Applewhite is a seven-year coaching veteran and joined the Texas staff in January 2008 as assistant head coach and running backs coach.

In 2008, Applewhite guided a running backs unit that had to replace Doak Walker Award semifinalist Jamaal Charles, who went to the NFL. Senior Chris Ogbonnaya, sophomore Vondrell McGee and redshirt freshmen Fozzy Whittaker and Cody Johnson stepped in and combined to rush for 1,371 yards and 20 TDs, while making 74 receptions for 640 yards and three TDs. Following the season, Ogbonnaya was drafted in the seventh round by the St. Louis Rams.

Applewhite returned to his alma mater after spending the 2007 season as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Alabama, where he was the youngest coordinator in the NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS).

In Applewhite's one year at Alabama, the Crimson Tide improved its offensive output by nearly 40 yards per game (335.9 to 373.8) and increased its scoring from 22.9 points per game to 27.1.

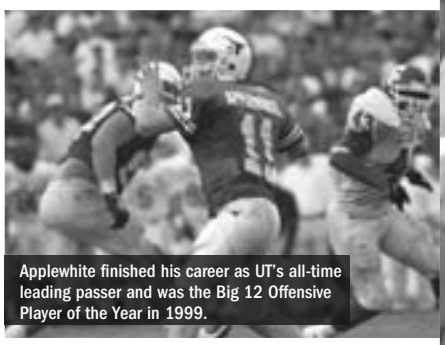
Prior to Alabama, Applewhite spent a season as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Rice where, as the youngest coordinator in NCAA Division I, he directed an offense that scored the most points (350) and gained the third-most yards (4,486) in Owls' history. Under his guidance, Rice produced a 1,000-yard rusher, a 1,000-yard receiver and a 1,000-yard passer for the first time in school history en route to the program's first appearance in a bowl game since 1961.

Before his stint at Rice, Applewhite joined former Longhorn Defensive Coordinator Greg Robinson at Syracuse where he served as quarterbacks coach in 2005. Applewhite's coaching career began where he starred, at Texas, where he served as a graduate assistant coach and worked with the offensive line for two seasons (2003-04). In his final year in 2004, the Longhorns went 11-1, beat No. 12 Michigan in the Rose Bowl and earned a No. 4 final ranking - it's highest since 1981.

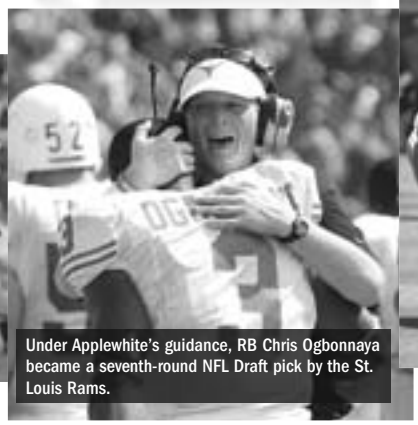
The Longhorns' team captain in 2001, Applewhite helped Texas to four straight bowl games (1999 and 2000 Cotton Bowls/2000 and 2001 Holiday Bowls) and posted a 22-8 record as a starter. He capped his career by throwing for a UT record 473 yards and a Longhorn-bowl-game best four TDs en route to Offensive MVP honors in a 47-43 victory over No. 20 Washington in the 2001 Holiday Bowl. The 1999 co-Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year finished his career with UT records for career (8,353) and season (3,357/1999) passing yards, as well as career TD passes (60). He threw for 2,453 yards and 18 TDs, UT freshman records at the time, in claiming Big 12 Freshman of the Year honors in 1998.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., Applewhite threw for 50 touchdowns and ran for eight more in two years as a starter at Catholic High School. He was tabbed an honorable mention prep all-America by USA Today after leading Catholic High to a 13-1 record and No. 10 national ranking as a senior. He was 25-2 as a starter.

Applewhite completed his degree in sport management at Texas in December 2002. His wife, Julie, is also a UT graduate and the couple has a daughter, Lila, who was born in January 2009.



Applewhite finished his career as UT's all-time leading passer and was the Big 12 Offensive Player of the Year in 1999.



Under Applewhite's guidance, RB Chris Ogbonnaya became a seventh-round NFL Draft pick by the St. Louis Rams.

Applewhite's corp of running backs did not lose a fumble in 2008.

Longhorn RBs in the NFL: Cedric Benson, Cincinnati Bengals; Jamaal Charles, Kansas City Chiefs; Ahmard Hall, Tennessee Titans; Chris Ogbonnaya, St. Louis Rams; Ricky Williams, Miami Dolphins; Selvin Young, Free agent

One of the most respected high school coaches in Texas for 14 years and a 26-year coaching veteran, Bruce Chambers has continued that success at The University of Texas. Chambers is in his seventh season as UT's tight ends coach after spending the previous five years working with the running backs. He also became UT's recruiting coordinator in 2005. Five of the Longhorn RBs and TEs he has worked with are currently in the NFL.

Last season, sophomore Blaine Irby emerged following the loss of Jermichael Finley to the NFL. Through the first three games, Irby caught 10 passes for 95 yards and two TDs, but his season was cut short by injury. With injuries also to young TEs Josh Marshall and Ian Harris, Greg Smith moved over from the offensive line and combined with senior Peter Ullman to provide solid blocking.

In 2007, Chambers led a tight ends group highlighted by Finley. The sophomore started all 13 games and caught 45 passes (No. 2 on the UT single-season list) for 575 yards (No. 3 on the UT single-season list) and two TDs.

Chambers had the difficult task of replacing statistically the greatest tight end in UT history in 2006 after David Thomas' graduation. But, under Chambers' guidance, Finley tallied 76 receptions (No. 3 on UT's all-time list) for 947 yards (No. 6 on UT's all-time list) and five TDs in just two seasons before being drafted in the third round by the Green Bay Packers.

Prior to 2006, Chambers guided Thomas to one of the best careers by a tight end in UT history. In 2005, Thomas set the single-season record for receptions by a tight end with 50, finished second on the single-season list in yards (613) and tied for third in TD receptions (five). In total, Thomas rewrote the record book under Chambers, finishing his career as Texas' all-time tight end leader in receptions (98), yards (1,367) and TDs (15).

In his first five seasons at Texas, Chambers coached three of the ten 1,000-yard rushers (Ricky Williams, 1998/ Hodges Mitchell, 1999-2000/Cedric Benson, 2001-02) in school history and became the first position coach since Fred Akers to have two different backs earn first-team all-conference honors in three consecutive seasons. He coached a 1,000-yard rusher in each of his five years as UT's running backs coach.

Chambers joined the UT staff from Dallas' Carter High School, where he was the head coach and athletics director during his final two years and also taught speech and journalism classes at the school.

A four-year letterman as a wide receiver and a two-time letterwinner in track and field at North Texas, Chambers earned his degree in journalism in 1982. His wife's name is Cathy.

Chambers coached Ricky Williams during his 1998 Heisman Trophy season.

Five of the Longhorn RBs and TEs Chambers has worked with are now playing in the NFL.

A former Longhorn star, Oscar Giles enters his fifth season as defensive ends coach at The University of Texas. It's Giles' second coaching stint with the Longhorns.

Under Giles' guidance, Brian Orakpo completed 2008 as one of the most dominant players in college football and one of the most honored in UT history. Orakpo became Texas' 19th unanimous All-American and won the Nagurski Trophy (nation's top defensive player), Lombardi Award (nation's top lineman) and Hendricks Award (nation's top defensive end). He was also the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year and a finalist for the Lott Trophy (nation's top defensive IMPACT player), while helping the Texas defense lead the nation in sacks. In 2009, Orakpo was drafted 13th overall by the Washington Redskins, while Henry Melton went to the Chicago Bears in the fourth round.

Since returning to Texas, Giles has also mentored a second-team All-American, a Hendricks Award finalist, seven All-Big 12 honorees, a National Defensive Freshman of the Year and a Big 12 Defensive Freshman of the Year. In the 2007 NFL Draft, Tim Crowder was taken in the second round by the Denver Broncos, while Brian Robison was selected early in the fourth round by the Minnesota Vikings.

A four-year letterwinner at Texas (1987-90), Giles played defensive end and linebacker for the Atlanta Falcons. He went on to play in the Canadian Football League from 1994-97 and helped the Toronto Argonauts win the Grey Cup Championship in 1996.

A three-year starter at UT, Giles earned All-SWC honors as a senior, when he helped the Longhorns to the 1990 SWC Championship and an appearance in the 1991 Cotton Bowl. He led Texas in sacks in 1988 (6.5) and 1989 (7.0) and finished with 22 in his career (T-No. 10 on the UT all-time list). A semifinalist for the Outland Trophy and two-time GTE Academic All-SWC selection, his nine career fumble recoveries are tied for second on the UT all-time chart.

A native of Palacios, Texas, Giles earned his Bachelor of Science degree in speech communications from Texas in 1991. Giles and his wife, Kim, have one daughter, Olivia.

Giles celebrates a victory with unanimous All-American and first-round NFL Draft pick Brian Orakpo.

Giles was an Outland Trophy semifinalist, an All-SWC performer and a three-year starter for the Longhorns at defensive end.

Under Giles' guidance, both Tim Crowder (left) and Brian Robison were selected in the 2007 NFL Draft.

A veteran of 20 seasons as a collegiate assistant coach, including 14 tutoring wide receivers, Bobby Kennedy is in his sixth year as an assistant coach at Texas. He works with the wide receivers and was named assistant recruiting coordinator prior to the 2005 season.

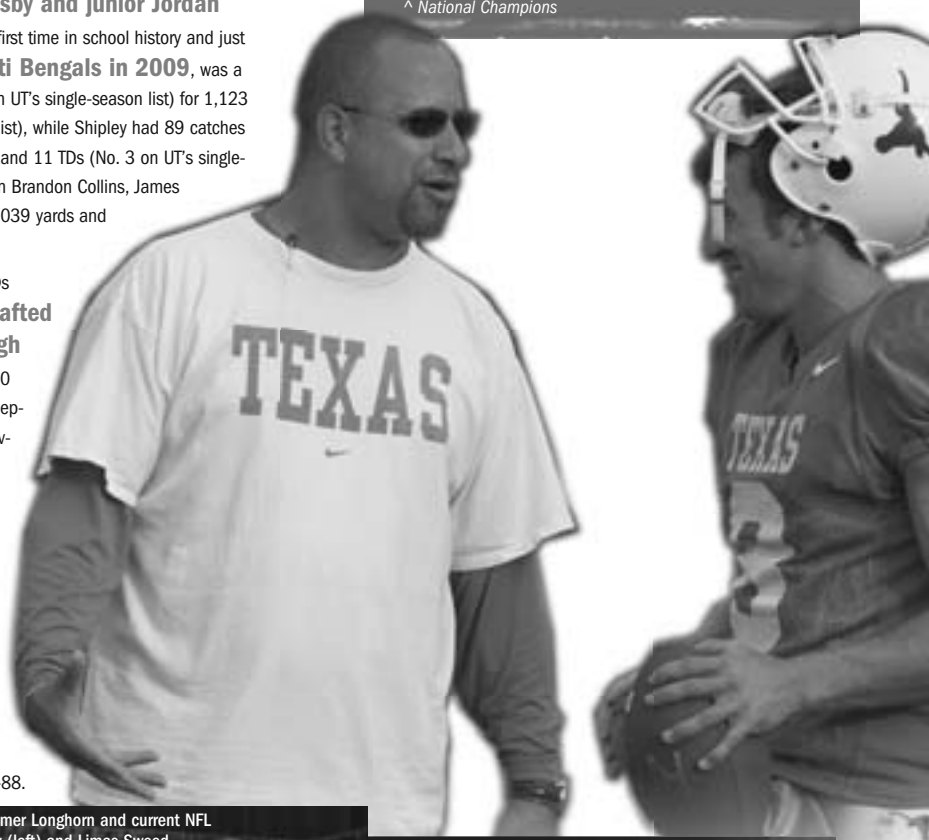
Under Kennedy in 2008, Texas produced a pair of receivers – senior Quan Cosby and junior Jordan Shipley – who each had 85-plus catches and 1,000-plus receiving yards for the first time in school history and just the 11th time in NCAA history. Cosby, who signed with the Cincinnati Bengals in 2009, was a Biletnikoff Award semifinalist (nation's top receiver) and caught 92 passes (No. 2 on UT's single-season list) for 1,123 yards (No. 3 on UT's single-season list) and 10 TDs (T-No. 4 on UT's single-season list), while Shipley had 89 catches (No. 3 on UT's single-season list) for 1,060 yards (No. 6 on UT's single-season list) and 11 TDs (No. 3 on UT's single-season list). Kennedy also guided the development of a quartet of young receivers in Brandon Collins, James Kirkendoll, Malcolm Williams and Dan Buckner, who combined for 78 catches for 1,039 yards and nine TDs.

In 2007, the wide receivers finished with 187 receptions for 2,275 yards and 18 TDs despite the loss of Biletnikoff Award candidate Limas Sweed, who was drafted in the second round of the 2008 NFL Draft by the Pittsburgh Steelers, to injury for most of the season. Senior Nate Jones led the team with 70 receptions (T-No. 2 on UT's single-season list). Combined with junior Cosby's 60 receptions, the 130 catches moved the pair to second on UT's single-season list for receiving duos at the time.

Prior to joining the Texas staff, Kennedy spent two years coaching wide receivers at Washington. Under his guidance, Huskies receiver Reggie Williams earned All-America honors twice before being selected by the Jacksonville Jaguars as the ninth overall pick of the 2004 NFL Draft.

Before Washington, Kennedy spent time at Arizona, Wake Forest, Wyoming, Penn State and Illinois. A 1989 graduate of Northern Colorado, Kennedy began his coaching career on the high school level in his hometown of Boulder. The Boulder High School graduate began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Illinois (1990-91).

Kennedy was a quarterback for Northern Colorado coach Ron Simonson from 1985-88. He and his wife, LaShonda, were married in 1998.



Kennedy has helped mentor a quartet of young receivers including Malcolm Williams (pictured).

For more information on Mac McWhorter, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

Mac McWhorter is in his eighth year on UT's coaching staff. McWhorter serves as the Longhorns offensive line coach. He was promoted to Associate Head Coach in 2005.

In 2008, the offensive line paved the way for the offense to rank fifth in scoring (42.4 ppg), seventh in passing (308.3 ypg) and ninth in total offense (475.8 ypg) in the nation. After losing All-America left tackle Tony Hills to graduation and the NFL, the line featured first-team All-Big 12 OT Adam Ulatoski, who moved into Hills' left tackle spot, along with second-team selections OG Cedric Dockery and C Chris Hall.

For his work, McWhorter was named the 2008 Assistant Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association.

McWhorter guided a line in 2007 that had to overcome the loss of three players to the NFL, including OG/T Justin Blalock (second round, Falcons), OG Kasey Studdard (seventh round, Texans) and C Lyle Sendlein (free agent, Arizona), and two of its senior starters to injury. Hills, who was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Football Foundation, had his season cut short by two games, and C Dallas Griffin, who became Texas' first Draddy Trophy winner and was first-team Academic All- America, missed the last three. Despite youth and frequently rotating lineups, the line still paved the way for 462.9 yards of total offense (13th NCAA), 207.5 yards rushing (17th NCAA) and 37.2 points per game (14th NCAA).

McWhorter's coaching career includes stops as a head coach at both the collegiate and high school levels, as well as assistant coaching positions at high-profile football schools such as Alabama, Clemson, Georgia and Georgia Tech.

McWhorter was a three-year letterwinner and two-year starter on the Georgia offensive line under head coach Vince Dooley from 1971-73. He earned All-Southeastern Conference honors as a senior. He also was a two-time Academic All-SEC pick (1972-73). He earned his degree from Georgia in 1974.

McWhorter and his wife, Rebecca, have three children, Kasey, Katie and Mac. Kasey and her husband Matt, have two daughters, Mercer and Morgan.

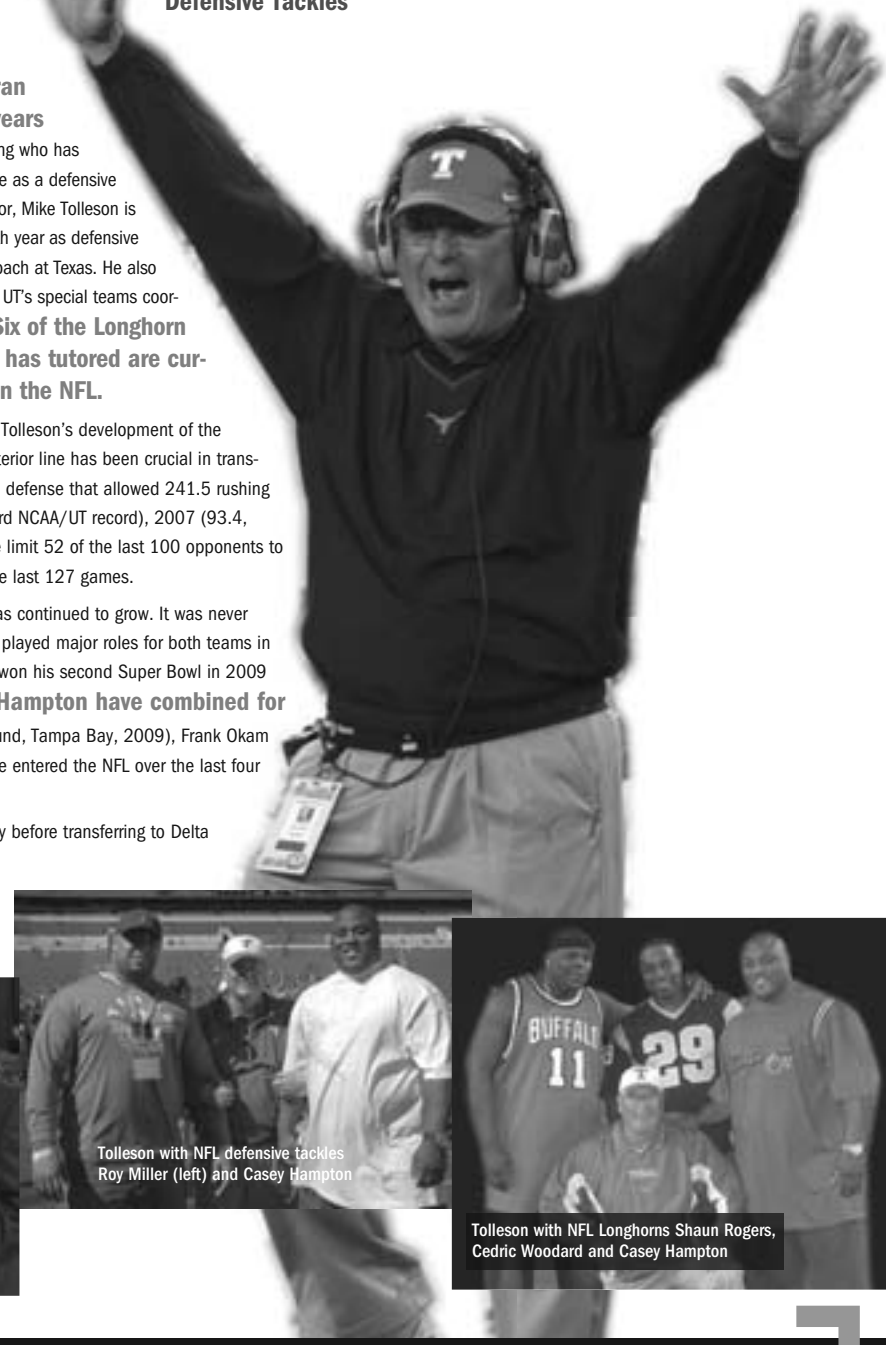
For more information on Mike Tolleson, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches



A veteran of 36 years of coaching who has experience as a defensive coordinator, Mike Tolleson is in his 12th year as defensive tackles coach at Texas. He also serves as UT's special teams coordinator. Six of the Longhorn DTs he has tutored are currently in the NFL.

At Texas, Tolleson's development of the Horns' interior line has been crucial in transforming a defense that allowed 241.5 rushing yards per game in 1997 to three consecutive top six finishes in 2006 (61.2, third NCAA/UT record), 2007 (93.4, sixth NCAA) and 2008 (83.5/third NCAA). UT's tackles have helped the defense limit 52 of the last 100 opponents to fewer than 100 yards rushing and allow just twenty-eight 100-yard rushers in the last 127 games.

Under Tolleson, Texas' reputation of producing outstanding defensive linemen has continued to grow. It was never more evident than in the 2006 Super Bowl, where two former Tolleson protégés played major roles for both teams in Pittsburgh's Casey Hampton and Seattle's Marcus Tubbs. Hampton started and won his second Super Bowl in 2009 with the Steelers. In addition, Cleveland Browns DT Shaun Rogers and Hampton have combined for seven Pro Bowl appearances, while Derek Lokey, Roy Miller (third round, Tampa Bay, 2009), Frank Okam (fifth round, Houston, 2008) and Rod Wright (seventh round, Miami, 2006) have entered the NFL over the last four seasons.

A native of Anniston, Ala., Tolleson was a two-year letterman at Tampa University before transferring to Delta State, where he lettered in football and track. A 1970 graduate of Delta State, Tolleson earned a master's degree from Livingston University in 1973.

Tolleson and his wife, Wilda Sue, have three daughters, Michelle, Shannon and Heather. Michelle and her husband, Scott, have two children, a son, Caden, and a daughter, Devin. Shannon has a husband, Todd.

Cleve Bryant, who has worked as a head coach, assistant coach and recruiting coordinator in both college and the NFL, is in his 12th year as the associate athletics director for football operations at The University of Texas.

In that role, Bryant works extensively in handling and supervising all of the administrative operations and responsibilities of the football program. He oversees everything from team travel and event scheduling, to recruiting weekends, housing and game-day operations.

Bryant, a former Longhorns wide receivers coach, rejoined the UT staff in 1998 after serving as an assistant coach under Mack Brown at North Carolina from 1995-97. At Carolina, he directed the passing game and was the recruiting coordinator.

A native of Canton, Ohio, Bryant was a star quarterback at Ohio University. He earned All-Mid-American Conference honors in 1967 and MAC Player of the Year accolades in 1968 while leading the Bobcats to back-to-back league titles. He was selected by the Denver Broncos in the 1969 NFL Draft. Bryant was also the head coach at his alma mater from 1984-90.

Bryant was inducted into the Ohio University Hall of Fame in 1975 and the Citrus Bowl Hall of Fame (which in 1968 was the Tangerine Bowl) in 1988. He set a Tangerine Bowl record with five TDs (four pass/one rush) in 1968.

He and his wife, Jean, a life skills counselor at UT, have two sons, Rodney and Kyle. Rodney and his wife, Candyss, have a daughter, Jasmin.

Jeff Madden, who has been honored by his peers as one of the nation's leading authorities on physical development, is in his 12th year as an assistant athletics director. He was inducted into the USA Strength and Conditioning Coaches Hall of Fame in June 2003. He went on to be named the 2004 National Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society and the 2005 College Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year by Samson Equipment.

Madden, who is currently the President of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Association, was one of just 10 coaches nationally to receive the title of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach at the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCA) convention in 2001. The honor represents what the association says "is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach and represents professionalism, knowledge, experience and expertise."

He also was honored with the Culligan Holiday Bowl's Admiral U.S. Grant Sharp Trophy in 2000, which was voted on by the Longhorns team and is bestowed upon an individual that is dedicated to team success.

Recognized worldwide as an authority on explosive power training, Madden was named the National Strength and Conditioning Specialist of the Year in 1996 by the International Sports Sciences Association. He also was recognized as a Master Elite Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association in 2000.

In 1988, Madden was Master Certified by the National Association of Speed and Explosion (NASE). The Longhorns strength and conditioning coach has played a critical role in the design and creation of some of the nation's leading collegiate strength and conditioning facilities. The Nassar Al-Rashid weight room is Madden's fourth facility, and it contains state-of-the-art, cutting-edge equipment that is user-friendly and second-to-none in design implementation.

Madden is on the board of directors of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association, is on the editorial advisory board of Sports Speed magazine and is a certified expert by the National Association of Speed and Explosion. He also has a 602-pound bench press to his credit, making him one of the top bench pressers in the world.

Madden was Master Certified in May 1991 by the International Sports Sciences Association (ISSA), recognizing him as one of the world leaders in the profession of sports development. He also was a unanimous selection to the ISSA Board of Directors.

He and his wife, Brenda, have two sons, Brandon and Bryan.

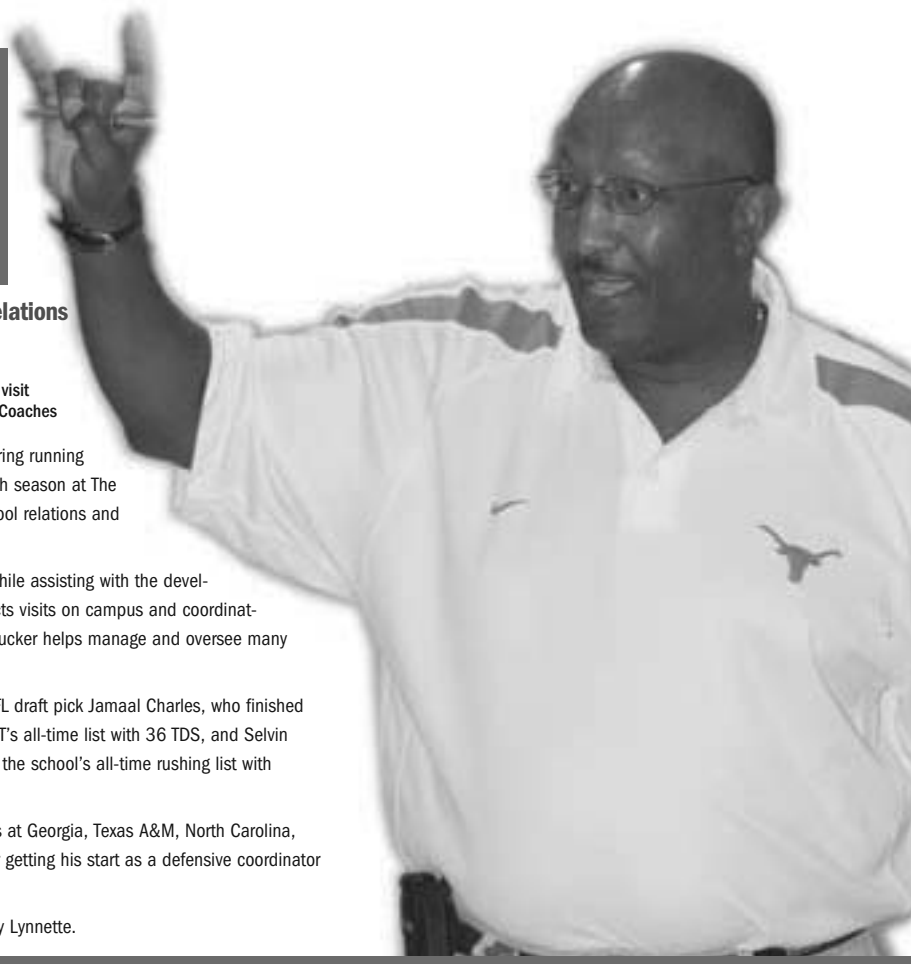
For more information on Ken Rucker, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches



A veteran of 29 seasons as a collegiate assistant coach, including 21 tutoring running backs, nine in the state of Texas and 12 in the Southwest, Ken Rucker enters his fifth season at The University of Texas. He begins his second year in the position of director of high school relations and player development after spending three years as running backs coach.

Rucker works extensively with the High School Coaches Clinic and summer camps while assisting with the development of the Longhorn football players. He also works closely in managing prospects visits on campus and coordinating campus and facility tours for unofficial visits. In working with the current team, Rucker helps manage and oversee many of their off-the-field responsibilities while assisting in their community service efforts.

In his three seasons as running backs coach at Texas, Rucker tutored third-round NFL draft pick Jamaal Charles, who finished his career fourth on UT's all-time rushing list with 3,328 yards and tied for fifth on UT's all-time list with 36 TDS, and Selvin Young, who plays for the Denver Broncos and finished his UT career ranked 20th on the school's all-time rushing list with 1,713 yards.

Prior to his time at Texas, Rucker coached all over the United States, including stops at Georgia, Texas A&M, North Carolina, Baylor, Arkansas, the Air Force Academy, Richmond and Appalachian State, all after getting his start as a defensive coordinator on the high school level.

A native of Morristown, Tenn., Rucker and his wife, Nancy, have one daughter, Kenny Lynnette.

George Wynn

Assistant Athletics Director for Football Operations

For more information on George Wynn, visit www.MackBrown-TexasFootball.com/Coaches

George Wynn enters his fifth season as assistant athletics director for football operations at Texas. Wynn joined the Longhorn staff after spending the previous six seasons at Arizona State as director of football operations.

Wynn assists in scheduling, team travel, planning player-related activities, aiding in the day-to-day operations of the football program and coordinating the Longhorns football camps.

Wynn also received his bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Georgia where he was a three-year starter at cornerback for the Bulldogs from 1989-91. He was a team captain his senior season and earned SEC All-Academic Team honors for his diligence in the classroom.

Wynn then took his game to the pro level, where he started at cornerback for the CFL's Saskatchewan RoughRiders in 1992 before deciding to pursue a career in sports administration.

He is married to the former Leesha Hadley. The couple has two children, one son, Royce (9) and one daughter, Lena (2).

Mike Clark

Football Family

Everything that Mack Brown and his staff say and do illustrates that the Texas football program is more than just a team, it is a family. From the coaches and staff to the players and their families, everything the Longhorns football program endures is done with, as Coach Brown says, "One Heartbeat." As a result, over a Longhorn player's four- or five-year career, he will build relationships with teammates, coaches and staff members that will last a lifetime.

"The family atmosphere was great. It really felt like home. I was around those guys basically 24-7. I was with them early in the morning working out, I was with them in the evening at 7-on-7, so those guys felt like my brothers, and the coaches felt like parents. I felt like I could talk to any coach about any problem I had."

— Michael Huff, 2005 Thorpe Award winner and current Oakland Raiders S

"I think the word 'family' is a great way to describe the football program at Texas. Coach Brown is like a father figure to all of us and we can go to him with anything. The chemistry that grows between the players is unbelievable. Everybody jells together and no matter who you are, you're treated as an equal. Super Staff

From its directors of operations to its strength and conditioning and coaching staff, the Longhorns football staff features a diverse combination of youth and experience. Each and every staffer has been involved in their area long enough to know the ins and outs of the profession and is as knowledgeable as anyone in their field of expertise. The one thing that links them all together is they have a passion for student-athletes and are driven to produce the best football program in America.

Defensive ends coach Oscar Giles

"One thing you can say about the Texas coaching staff is that they know a lot about football. The great thing is that they are really particular about making sure that you do the little things right and with the right technique and form. We did all the little things right and it went a long way in our winning a lot of football games. We were fundamentally sound. I love watching Coach Brown's defense and special teams. Special teams are something that is overlooked in college and he puts a lot of emphasis on it. It's really fun to watch them blocking kicks and returning kicks for touchdowns."*

— Ricky Williams, 1998 UT Heisman Trophy winner

"What makes the UT coaches so great is there is a family atmosphere there. They are like fathers to all the guys — it's like you have 12 'Dads' on the team."

— Cory Redding, former UT and current Seattle Seahawks DL

"The coaching staff is great.

Coach Brown and his staff are there for us at all times, through coaching, through practice, through anything that we need - they are always there for us. I believe they are the best in the nation."

has a reputation as one of the nation's top offensive coordinators. In 11 seasons at Texas, he has led the Horns to 10 of the top 12 total offense seasons and nine of the top 10 passing seasons in school history.

Defensive backs coach Duane Akina

"Coach Akina is the best DB coach in the country, by far. He has a track record to go behind that. He's put a lot of guys in the NFL, and a lot of them have succeeded there. That speaks a lot to Coach Akina and how he teaches you and prepares you for different situations."

— Tarell Brown, former Longhorn and current San Francisco 49er DB

LONGHORNS FOOTBALL

Seven-time Tour de France winner and cycling legend Lance Armstrong is a frequent attendee of Texas football games.

Success has gone hand-in-hand with crowd turnout at UT games. Through 116 seasons, Texas has responded with victories in 486 of 611 contests played in Austin. Texas has led its conference in attendance in 32 of the last 37 seasons and is a mainstay among the college football elite when it comes to fan appeal. Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium welcomes more than 100,000 Longhorns fans for each game.

Texas' annual Fan Appreciation Day attracts thousands of fans, many of whom line up for autographs hours before the start.

"We were beaten badly and soundly by a very good Texas team. They were better prepared. They were at home in front of a monumental crowd in a near cathedral stadium. It was a great spectacle to be a part of."

– Florida Atlantic head coach Howard Schnellenberger in 2008

In honor of the Texas football legacy, a game day tradition has each player touching the Longhorns (above, right) and the Freddie Steinmark Scoreboard (below) before they take the field at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium.

After an energizing introduction on the nation's largest video board, Texas players charge onto Jamail Field amidst a sea of smoke on game day.

Packed stadiums, rowdy fans, fun and exciting traditions, national television audiences and thrilling plays are all a part of a Longhorn game day. Beginning with the team's arrival and their stroll through the thousands of fans awaiting their entrance to the dramatic smoke-filled entry to the field and the singing of "Texas Fight" in the locker room after a victory, there is nothing quite like the excitement of a UT football game.

"Game day excitement is awesome, from pre-game when you get off the bus and walk through the fans as they cheer, to running through the smoke. I can remember the first time I came through Darrell K Royal-Memorial Stadium. It is a feeling that you have to be there to experience it. There are no words that can express it."

— Senior QB Colt McCoy

"There's great pageantry here in this sea of burnt orange as they play, 'The Eyes of Texas.'"

— Chris Fowler, ESPN

"On game days at Texas, you get a fresh new sense of Texas pride throughout the stadium when they give the Hook 'em Horns sign and sing 'The Eyes of Texas.' Coach Brown has established the true spirit of wearing the Burnt Orange and White together. The team, the faculty, the students, the alumni and the community are united together as family — and that's a strong force again in Austin."

With a mixture of game day fun and festivities and a number of lettermen reunion activities, Texas' Spring Football Jamboree has become an annual Austin extravaganza.

"I love it. Every time I come back, it's a great time, especially with a game like this with a better crowd than a lot of places have for a real game. It's a great weekend. It's a chance to see everybody again and it feels like home."

— Justin Blalock, former UT and current Atlanta Falcons OG

Casey Hampton was one of several NFL Longhorns who joined the set of the 2009 ESPNU spring broadcast.

The annual lettermen's reunion and golf tournament bring together generations of Longhorns.

"This is always,

I think, as an alum and a letterman, one of the best things we do. It crosses all ages and time periods during the history of The University. It's always great to catch up with people, some of whom I only see during this time. It's great to stay in touch."

— Lawrence Sampleton, former UT and NFL tight end

"One of the first things

I do after the season is put the Lettermen's Golf Outing on my schedule. It is a great chance to catch up with all of my old Longhorn buddies and to get to know the guys on the current squad."

— Dan Neil, former Longhorns All-American and Outland Trophy finalist and a former starting guard for the Denver Broncos

"This event is everything that is special about being a Longhorn. You come back here and see players that you played with and players that you've seen play before and after your own time here. We talk about old stories and players that you haven't seen in years. We catch up with everybody and see what everyone is up to. "

In the progress I've seen over the past couple of years, it's encouraging to see most of our starters and key players achieve honors like at our recent academics awards banquet. It says a lot of our guys are competing with the top students that go to our school."*

— Frank Okam, former UT and current Houston Texans DT

Former Longhorn Cory Michner won third place in the prestigious annual Burleson Fiction Writing contest.

The Longhorns host an annual faculty visit, allowing players to invite faculty to tour the facilities, watch practice and have dinner with the team.

Texas'

Assistant Athletics Director for Academic Services, Brian Davis is a 25-year veteran in the area of academic counseling. A former track letterman at Iowa State, Davis is one of three academic counselors who work closely with the Longhorns football team.

"Brian Davis and Mrs. Bryant and the staff offer so much to us. There's no way you don't have the opportunity to do the best you can. They offer all the resources in the world - tutors, anything you need academically. All you have to do is utilize it."

— Sophomore RB Fozzy Whittaker

Texas ranks eighth all-time among FBS schools in Academic All-Americans with 33.

In a recent review of graduation rates of African-American athletes since 1988, Texas ranked among the nation's top 25 programs.

"The faculty members don't get to step inside their world and appreciate the amount of work they do. We in the stands enjoy the Saturday afternoon game and excitement of victory and the agony of defeat, but what we don't realize is the work they have in the trenches. They're here at 5:30 and 6 in the morning for weights, and then they go to class and then they come back for practice and then they have study hall. To get to step inside their world is an opportunity."

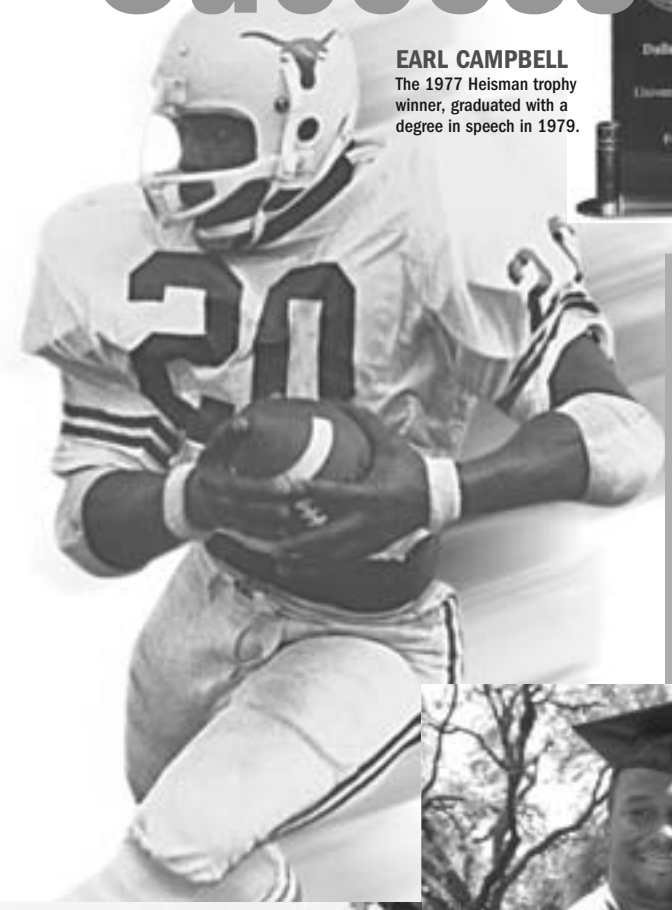
Academic Success

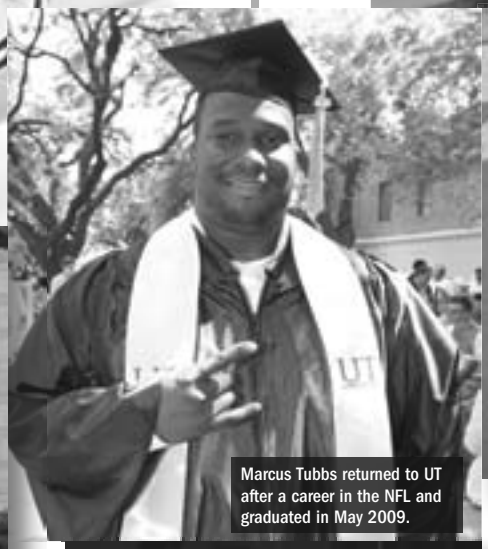
Just in the last four years, Justin Blalock, Michael Huff, Roy Miller, Chris Ogbonnaya, Frank Okam, Brian Orakpo, Jonathan Scott, Kasey Studdard, Limas Sweed and David Thomas all had their degrees when they were drafted into the NFL.



EARL CAMPBELL
The 1977 Heisman trophy winner, graduated with a degree in speech in 1979.

Lyle Sendlein, Kasey Studdard, Selvin Young and Justin Blalock graduated together in December 2006. Eighteen of the 23 seniors in the 2006 senior class have graduated, including six prior to the 2006 Alamo Bowl.

Twenty-one of the 24 members of the 2007 senior class have earned their degrees, 11 did so prior to the 2007 Holiday Bowl.



Marcus Tubbs returned to UT after a career in the NFL and graduated in May 2009.

Cedric Dockery, Peter Ullman, Brian Orakpo, Ryan Palmer and George Walker graduated in December 2008.

PAT FITZGERALD
A first-team All-American, two-time Academic All-American and a post-graduate scholarship award recipient, Pat Fitzgerald earned his marketing degree in 1996. He graduated from UT's law school in 2002.

Dallas Griffin and Mack Brown with the 2007 Draddy Trophy, also known as the "academic Heisman."

BRETT ROBIN

LONGHORNS FOOTBALL

Outgoing seniors Cory Michner and Chris Ogbonnaya were both inducted into the NFF Hampshire Honor Society in 2008.

"Earning a T Ring is so special.

I pretty much won't wear my other rings. I love them and I love the work we put in for them, but I put in just as much work, if not more, for a T Ring. That's what I will wear for what it means and what it stands for. Getting a degree at UT, you've definitely accomplished something."

— Quan Cosby, former UT and current Cincinnati Bengals WR

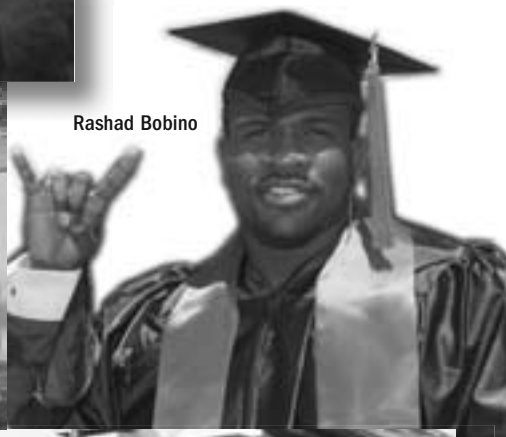
Justin Blalock

The Longhorns had 18 seniors play in the National Championship Game who had already earned their degrees.

The T Ring is a prized treasure to every UT letterman who earns a degree.

Chris Hall and Charlie Tanner

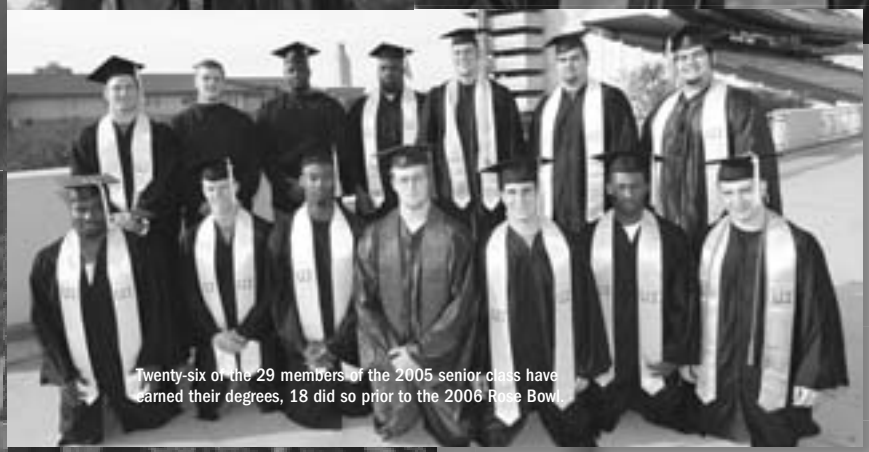


Rashad Bobino

"National Championship,

Super Bowl, it doesn't matter. This T Ring will be the most important ring I will ever earn."

— Michael Huff, former UT Thorpe Award winner and current Oakland Raiders S



Twenty-six of the 29 members of the 2005 senior class have earned their degrees, 18 did so prior to the 2006 Rose Bowl.

Chris Ogbonnaya, here with his family, graduated with a double major and enrolled in graduate school before being drafted by the St. Louis Rams in 2009 was one of three students of the entire graduating class to receive special recognition by President William Powers, Jr. at the campus-wide ceremony in Spring 2006.

Trey Bates graduated in May 2005 and joined fellow Longhorn Brett Robin in medical school at UT-San Antonio.

"I would tell any Longhorn player to take full advantage of the opportunity and don't hold back in the classroom or the football field. UT is a great opportunity and wonderful university that can help you accomplish great things."

— Pat Fitzgerald, 1996 first-team Academic All-American and first-team Associated Press All-American

Community Involvement

"I enjoy volunteering because every weekend during the season we have kids like the ones I was able to work with today at the Texas Round-Up cheering us on, and I want them to know that I recognize and appreciate their support."
— Junior LB Dustin Earnest

Mack Brown traveled to the Middle East and other parts of the world to visit the U.S. troops, here at Camp Liberty in Baghdad, Iraq.

The University of Texas football program is a very active participant in community service efforts in Austin and across the state. Longhorns student-athletes regularly volunteer time visiting local elementary and middle schools, supporting various charity functions and visiting patients at Dell Children's Medical Center. UT student-athletes also actively support The University's Neighborhood Longhorns Program.*

Sam Acho and Dustin Earnest taught youngsters about the importance of establishing regular physical activity routines and healthy habits at the 2008 Texas Round-Up at the State Capitol.

The Longhorns hosted families from the Wonders & Worries program, a non-profit organization that provides support to children, youth and families coping with chronic and life-threatening illnesses.

Former Longhorns Cedric Dockery, Ryan Palmer and Henry Melton and senior Ben Alexander spoke to over 1,000 children at an Austin Middle School in 2008.

Former UT S Michael Huff hosted his charity celebrity weekend in Austin, including a visit to the Dell Children's Medical Center.

Senior QB Colt McCoy was one of only 11 players selected from the entire Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) for the 2008 Allstate AFCA Good Works Team. The team honors those who are the embodiment of the true spirit of "teamwork" and "giving back" through selfless contributions and commendable acts of kindness.

Senior QB Colt McCoy spoke about leadership to a full assembly of Austin area high school students in 2009.

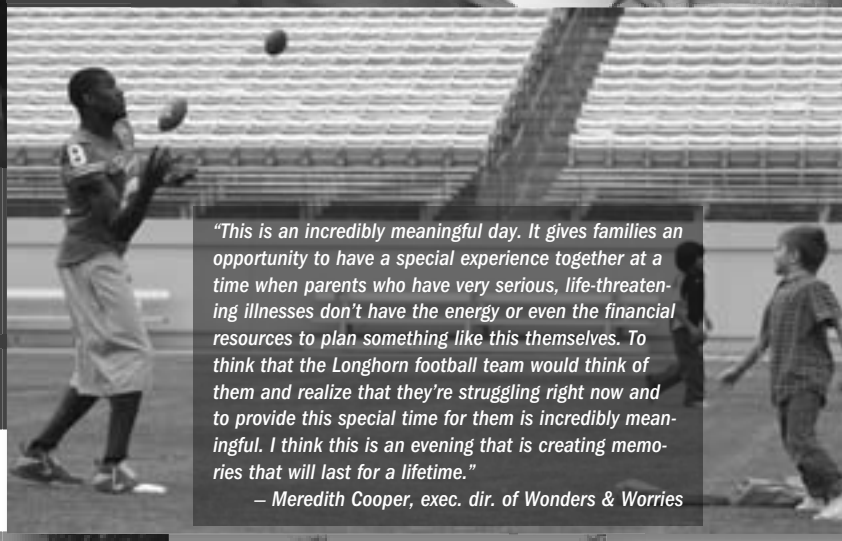
Sophomore C David Snow was on hand when patients from Dell Children's Medical Center visited UT's football facilities.

Former UT and current Pittsburgh Steelers Pro Bowler and Super Bowl champion Casey Hampton was honored with his high school jersey retirement in Galveston in 2009.

Former Longhorns DT Roy Miller (left) gave a tour of UT's facilities and spoke to hundreds of children from a Killeen middle school, while Brian Orakpo (right) visited patients at Houston children's hospitals during his trip for the 2008 Lombardi Award. Above QB Colt McCoy spoke to students in Connecticut during a trip to the area.

"The student-athletes working with our young students is a big deal for our school. The kids look forward to the visits every week and are excited about reading. The student-athletes from UT and our students spend quality time together and develop personal relationships. The program ties them to higher education and shows them that college is a goal they can strive for."

— Floretta Andrews, Campbell Elem. Principal



"This is an incredibly meaningful day. It gives families an opportunity to have a special experience together at a time when parents who have very serious, life-threatening illnesses don't have the energy or even the financial resources to plan something like this themselves. To think that the Longhorn football team would think of them and realize that they're struggling right now and to provide this special time for them is incredibly meaningful. I think this is an evening that is creating memories that will last for a lifetime."

— Meredith Cooper, exec. dir. of Wonders & Worries

Mack and Sally Brown have served meals at the Caritas Shelter in Austin on multiple occasions.

Several Longhorns including Fozzy Whittaker attended the St. John's Library Literacy Event helping build children's interest in reading.

Former Longhorns DT Roy Miller (left) arranged a trip to an Army Hospital in San Antonio for himself and teammates Brian Orakpo (center) and Rashad Bobino (right).

"(Players visiting with local youth) is so important. The messages just hit the nail right on the head. These kids are getting the message, and I can tell. I talk to them and they know they're going to make changes in their lives after listening to these guys."

— Amelia Nieto, Webb Middle School Drug Prevention and School Safety Coordinator, after a visit from several Longhorn football players

Community Involvement

"You wish all the kids could come out. Some of them aren't healty enough right now, but we hope they get there. Staying in the hospital all the time has to be hard, so if we can do anything to make them feel a little better, we're going to do it."

Mack Brown spoke to troops during a visit to Fort Hood in Killeen, Texas in 2009.

"To see what those kids go through every day, the conditions they live in, it makes you appreciate what you have. We tend to take things for granted like having a shirt to put on or having a bed to sleep in. They don't have those things, but still they have these smiles on their faces and are so happy to see us. It's humbling."

— Senior QB Colt McCoy on his mission trips to Peru

The Longhorns frequently take time to visit children's hospitals all over the state of Texas.

Junior DE Sam Acho speaks at a fundraiser for Living Hope Ministries prior to a mission trip to Nigeria in the summer of 2009.

Ashley Davis and patients of the Dell Children's Medical Center present an award to Quan Cosby and the Longhorns.

"I don't think words can adequately express what this means to some of our families. It created some priceless memories that they'll always have. The football team is such a role model for these kids and a symbol of hope. Their encouraging words every time we get together just mean the world to these families and are something that they hold on to even after the visit."

— Ashley Davis
Dell Children's Medical Center special events coordinator

"My passion for kids has been there forever but once you have your own, and you see kids in pain, it takes on an entire new meaning. If my little girl gets a scratch on her face, I'm sad. But they have real life situations and my heart goes out to them, my prayers go out to them."

A line of soldiers and their families forms for autographs during a celebration for soldiers both departing to and returning from Iraq and Afghanistan.

"For the soldiers, it brings a lot of pride, because it's also a feeling of appreciation. The football players are donating their time to show appreciation for the things the soldiers have done for them. I hope the football players know how much the soldiers appreciate them, especially with a line this long for autographs."

— Captain Matthew Morey of the 4th Infantry Division

"Growing up,
I had seen my dad in Iraq. To see our guys that have never been around the Army, but they still show so much love to the soldiers, it makes me feel good to see guys like my dad are so appreciated and respected. It was really nice. The soldiers do a great job, and I appreciate all of them."

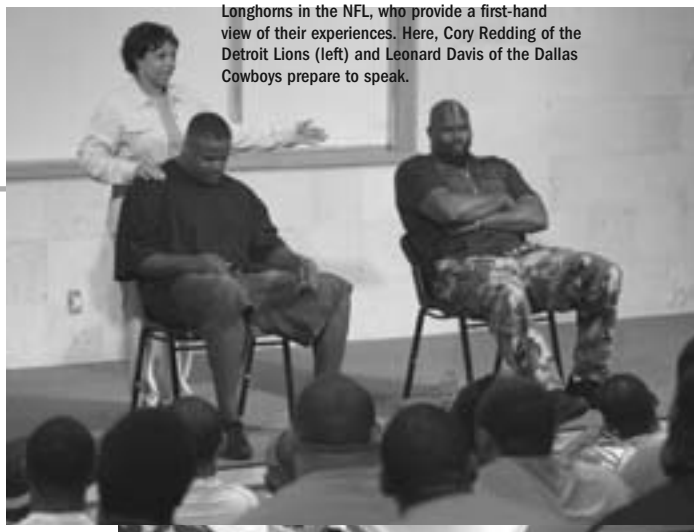
Life Skills

Jean Bryant coordinates the Longhorn football Life Skills program.



Jean Bryant arranges frequent visits by former Longhorns in the NFL, who provide a first-hand view of their experiences. Here, Cory Redding of the Detroit Lions (left) and Leonard Davis of the Dallas Cowboys prepare to speak.

To prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field, The University of Texas has been a leader in assisting the NCAA in the development of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program.

The national program is designed to provide student-athletes with the education and experiences to assist them in bridging the gap from college life to professional life. It also emphasizes making meaningful contributions to the community.

In 2009, defensive end Sam Acho (below) took part in the CHAMPS/Life Skills NCAA Leadership Conference as one of 333 student-athletes from across the country.

Mack Brown and Cleve Bryant with the NFL's Charles Garcia, Gil Brandt and John Wooten. Garcia, Brandt and Wooten spoke to the Longhorns on making informed decisions on topics related to the NFL ranging from early entry to managing finances.

Featured speakers at UT athletics' "Conversations with Greatness," a minority mentorship symposium, have included musician Eve (left) and actor Hill Harper (below).

Vince Young has built relationships with companies such as Reebok, Dell and NetSpend since departing Texas.

Former NFL star Merton Hanks provided some valuable insight during a life skills seminar.

Former Longhorn and Olympic gold medalist Sanya Richards spoke to the team on resiliency.

Senior QB Colt McCoy spoke to Austin business professionals with broadcaster and NFL veteran Spencer Tillman.

U.S. Marines spoke to the Longhorns about teamwork and leadership.

Vince Young

was listed among Sports Illustrated's '2007 Fortunate 50,' for the top-earning athletes across all sports.

"It doesn't take a lot of time to go back and double check things that are supposed to be going on. To me, the guys should just use all their resources. We have great resources here and you should never be afraid to ask."

— Leonard Davis, former UT and current Dallas Cowboys OG

- University Parking and Transportation
- The University of Texas Police Department

"One thing I can say after the symposium is I can do almost anything with my major of corporate communications. I knew this before but this event really brought out this aspect. A lot of these people within their jobs all realize they could use someone who has a major like mine, so that was pretty inspirational."

— Drew Kelson, former UT safety

"Coach Brown doesn't want us to leave here and have just been football players. He wants you to leave a better man. He wants the guys to be better husbands and fathers. Everything we learned at UT are things we still use today. They're important parts of how you show yourself, and I'm thankful for that."

— Vince Young, former UT and current Tennessee Titans QB

The Longhorns greet Charles Garcia and Leonard Davis after a lesson about the NFL.

UT players learn about dining etiquette at the annual Dining for Success presentation.

Freshman DB Kenny Vaccaro with UT President Bill Powers

The Longhorns freshmen are taken to an area grocery store and given lessons on how to shop and proper nutrition.

"It's been really helpful to learn about things from etiquette to nutrition. You can apply everything you learn almost every day."

– Sophomore CB Aaron Williams

The team was provided the opportunity to register to vote prior to the November 2008 elections.

Longhorns in the MIS 311 business communications class such as Eddie Jones (below) and Jared Norton (above) developed and marketed products that were judged as part of a semester-ending business fair.

Cleve Bryant provides a broad view of what players can expect in life after college.

"All of the speakers and functions that I was involved in really helped me develop a better understanding of how to prepare myself and plan for the future. I can't tell you how many invaluable lessons I learned about life during my career at UT."

— Quentin Jammer, former Longhorns All-American and 2002 NFL first-round draft pick

"We're very fortunate to have this. A lot of athletes at other schools don't get the same opportunity to have a true understanding of what's really going on as you enter the NFL. We're fortunate enough to learn that here before we go through it. All of the programs here give great lessons to help you."

– Senior DT Lamarr Houston

Mack's Magic

"Mack has been a great coach for a long time. He is a great recruiter and he is a great X and O kind of guy, but as much as anything, I think he is a great person. I can see why families would trust him with their kids. He is just a great leader."

– Lovie Smith, Chicago Bears head coach

"Coach Brown always did a great job of putting players first. He always cared about us, and I really love him for that. Some coaches can just use hardness, but he's one of the coolest coaches. At the same time, he still knows when to put his foot down. But he always shows love and made us appreciate everything we have. So many people are in the world struggling and going through things we don't even know about until he reads us a letter someone wrote. It brings a different perspective to life, period. I really love coach Brown for doing that."*

— Vince Young

— Mack Brown

Mack Brown teamed with Texas Attorney General Greg Abbott to campaign against domestic violence.

"Coach Brown always talked to you about life. It wasn't just about football, so what that means to me is he cares more about the person before the athlete. If a player knows that, he's going to go the extra mile for him. I think that's why so many guys come to Texas and come back for their senior seasons. That's why I came back, because with Coach Brown, it's real love, and he's created a real family environment."

Exciting Offense

In 11 seasons under Greg Davis, the Texas offense has produced nine of the top 10 passing seasons, 10 of the top 12 total yardage campaigns and the top eight scoring years in school history, including a then-NCAA-record 652 points in 2005.

"When you're as accurate as Colt McCoy is, if you play man, he's going to beat you either down the field or on a crossing route. If you play zone, his receivers are savvy enough to find a hole in the zone. There really isn't an answer to stop Colt McCoy and this offense."

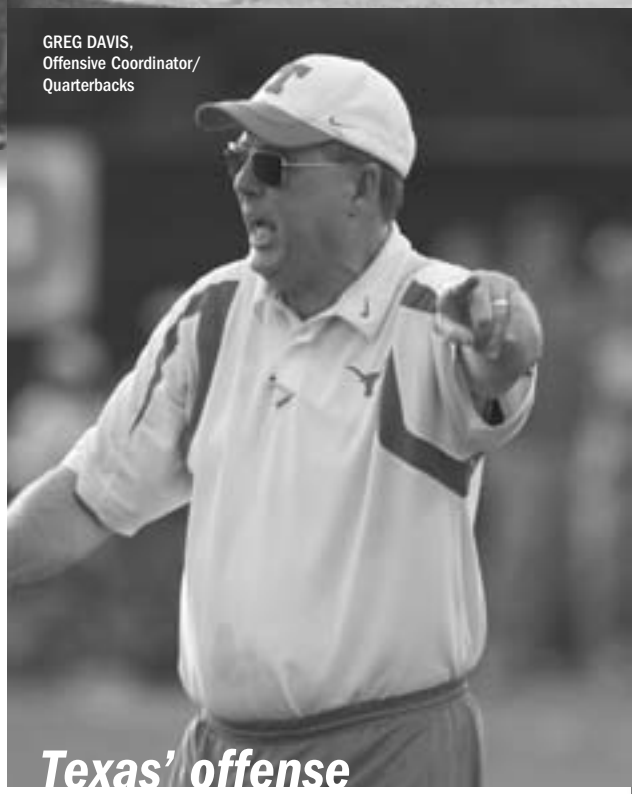
— Kirk Herbstreit, ESPN Analyst

"They create a lot of problems. They've got a lot of good and exceptional players, and I think that some place in that offense, there's a spot to give every one of those players the ball. They make you defend every player on the field."

– Norm Parker, Iowa defensive coordinator

For more than a decade,

Greg Davis has been recognized as one of the most innovative offensive coordinators in college football. Entering his 12th year at Texas, Davis, who won the Broyles Award (nation's top assistant coach) in 2005, has guided a Longhorns offense that produced the school's only 3,000-yard passers (5), 2,000-yard rusher and 1,000-yard receivers (6). His explosive UT offenses have registered 135 school records, thirty-seven 50-point games and four of the top six total offense games on school record. UT has also produced thirty-nine 500-yard total offense performances (there are only 62 of them in the 116 years of Texas football) and has recorded nine of the school's nineteen 600-yard total offense games.



GREG DAVIS,
Offensive Coordinator/
Quarterbacks

Did you know?

Texas' offense has produced an NFL first-round draft pick in seven of the last 11 years. That group includes players from five different positions (QB, RB, WR, LT, RT).

Four of the Longhorns' five offensive coaches have served as head coaches or coordinators during their careers. The group has amassed 149 years of coaching experience and has coached in 70 bowl games.

"The thing that is great about Coach Davis' offense is that it is so versatile, and as a quarterback, it allows you to do a lot of different things. Coach Davis allows you to make the reads and adjustments and works with you in managing the game. If you have any aspirations of playing in the NFL or just improving every day as a player, his offense prepares you for that."

— Chris Simms, UT record-setting quarterback and current Denver Bronco

"Coach Davis spent a lot of time with me helping me understand the game. He helped make the game more fun than it already was. It became more fun knowing what you're doing out there. I love Coach Davis for that."

— Vince Young, Maxwell, O'Brien and Manning Awards winner

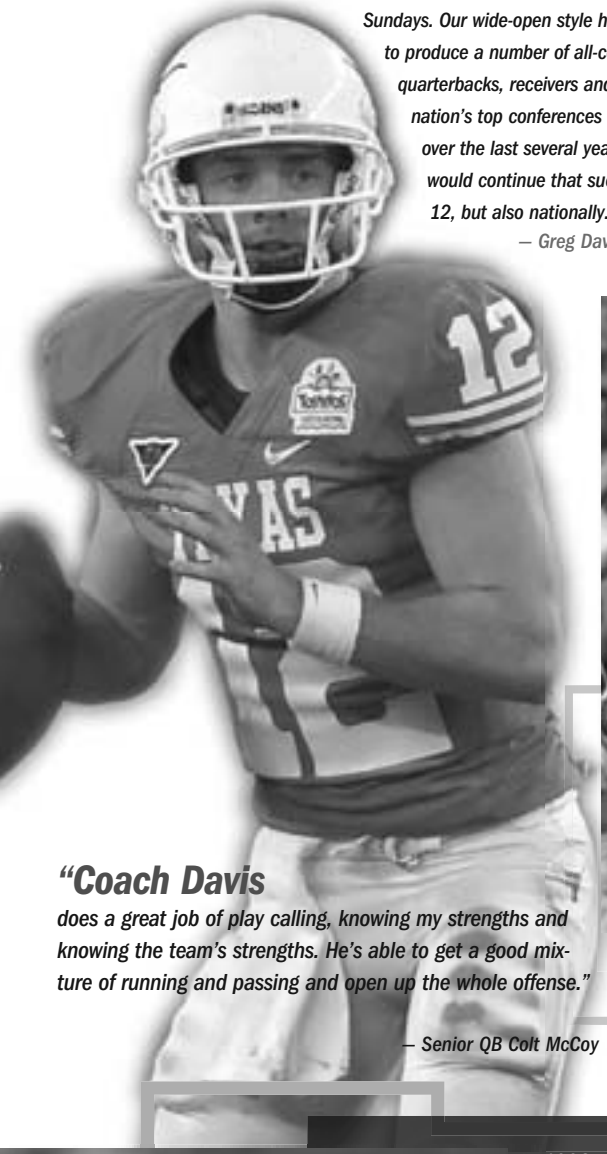
Texas' offense has produced two of the top seven rushers in NCAA history (Ricky Williams, 2nd, 6,279 yards; Cedric Benson, 7th, 5,540 yards).

"The pro-oriented offensive attack we have installed at Texas is a fast-paced and fun system which is exciting for any player who has ambitions of playing on Sundays. Our wide-open style has had the versatility to produce a number of all-conference tailbacks, quarterbacks, receivers and linemen in three of the nation's top conferences (Big 12, SEC and ACC) over the last several years. I would expect we would continue that success, not only in the Big 12, but also nationally."

— Greg Davis, Offensive Coordinator

Did you know?

Texas has scored at least 25 points in 52 of its last 59 games and finished the 2008 season ranked in the Top 10 in scoring, total and passing offense.



BRUCE CHAMBERS,
Tight Ends

BOBBY KENNEDY,
Wide Receivers

In 2008, Texas produced a pair of receivers – Quan Cosby and Jordan Shipley – who each had 85-plus catches and 1,000-plus receiving yards for the first time in school history and just the 11th time in NCAA history.

"Coach Davis does a great job of play calling, knowing my strengths and knowing the team's strengths. He's able to get a good mixture of running and passing and open up the whole offense."*

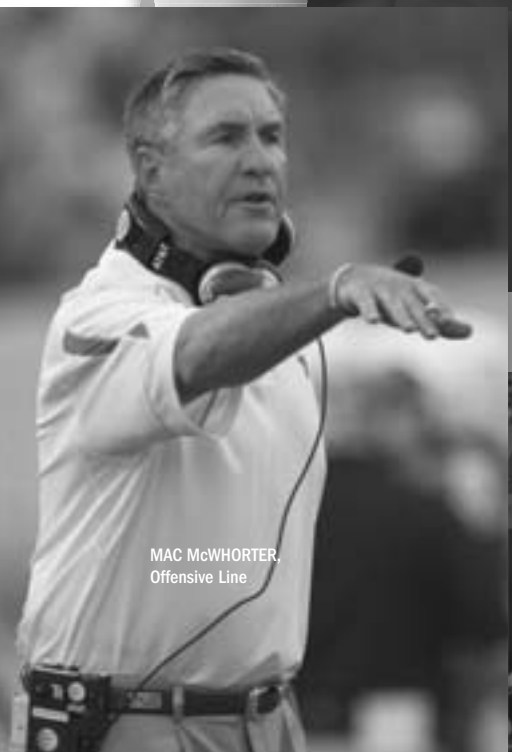
— Senior QB Colt McCoy

MAJOR APPLEWHITE,
Running Backs

"It was just the way (McCoy) ran their operation and executed their offense. We tried to blitz and he would make a pass-check for a touchdown. We would try to blitz another way and he'd make a run-check and get a big play. They were very efficient and beat us in every phase."*

— Arkansas head coach Bobby Petrino in 2008

In 1998 with Major Applewhite at QB, Texas became just the second school in NCAA history to feature a 2,000-yard rusher and passer as well as a 1,000-yard receiver.



MAC McWHORTER,
Offensive Line

Attacking Defense

DUANE AKINA,
Assistant Head Coach/
Defensive Backs

"I owe everything I've accomplished as a football player to Coach Akina. He's the best defensive backs coach in the country and a man that inspired me to get better every day. I definitely wouldn't have a Thorpe Award without him."

– Michael Huff,
2005 Thorpe Award winner

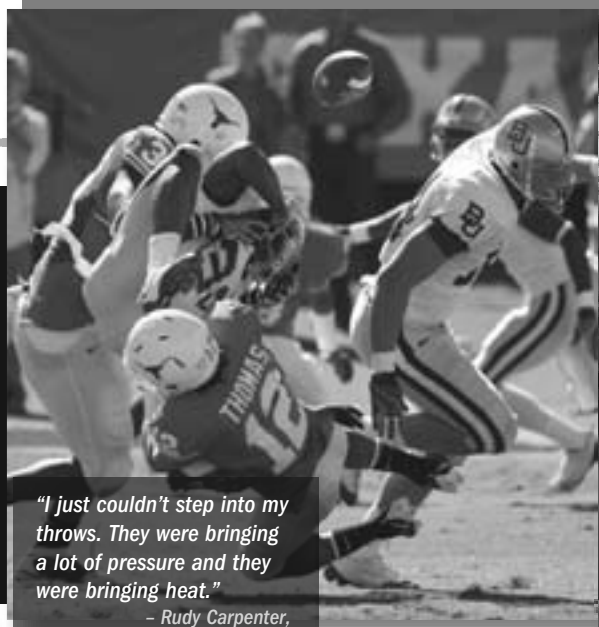
Texas' defense has finished in the Top Eight in rushing defense in three straight seasons after allowing just 83.5 ypg in 2008 (third NCAA), 93.4 ypg in 2007 (eighth NCAA) and 61.2 ypg in 2006 (third NCAA). The 2006 season is the best performance on school record since 1942 (57.5 ypg). In the last three seasons, UT has held 13 teams to 27 yards or fewer, including four games in which the opponent rushed for negative yards.

Since Mack Brown

took over in 1998, the Texas defense has produced two Nagurski Trophy winners (nation's top defensive player), back-to-back Thorpe Award winners (nation's top defensive back) and a finalist, a Butkus Award winner (nation's top linebacker) and a finalist, a Lombardi Award winner (nation's top lineman) and four finalists, a Hendricks Award winner (nation's top defensive end) and two finalists, two Bednarik Award finalists (nation's top defensive player), two Lott Trophy finalists (nation's defensive impact player) and an Outland Trophy finalist (nation's top lineman).



"I just couldn't step into my throws. They were bringing a lot of pressure and they were bringing heat."

– Rudy Carpenter,
Arizona State QB

"(Texas) has a good front seven. Their linebackers run and tackle well. We'd have a couple plays out in the open, and their speed and ability to tackle was very good."

– Arkansas head coach Bobby Petrino in 2008

In five years as a coordinator at Auburn and LSU Muschamp's defenses ranked in the nation's top 10 in total defense every year. His defense with the Miami Dolphins also ranked in the NFL's top 10.

"All of our coaches have a real passion for what they do. Their energy carries over to you and makes you want to play that much harder. Coach Muschamp is always preaching about being physical, and their aggressive style is something every defensive player wants to be a part of."

"It's really intense.

Coach Muschamp has brought an attitude where they're coming after you, they're going to hit you, they're going to strike you, and it makes us work that much harder."

— Senior QB Colt McCoy

DID YOU KNOW?

In the last 11 seasons, Mack Brown and his staff ...

Took a defense that ranked 85th in the nation in total defense in 1997 and turned it into one that ranked NO. 1 IN THE NATION in 2001, as well as sixth in 1999 seventh in 2000 and 10th in 2005.

Took a defense that ranked 104th in the nation in rushing defense in 1997 and improved to 17th nationally in 1999, 12th in 2000, sixth in 2001, third in 2006, eighth in 2007 and third in 2008.

Took a defense that ranked 75th in the nation in passing defense in 1997 and became the nation's 12th-best in 1999, the NCAA leader in 2000, fourth-best in 2001, ninth in 2003 and eighth in 2005.

Converted a defense that ranked 96th in the nation in scoring defense in 1997 to the 11th-ranked group in 2000, third in the nation in 2001, eighth in 2004 and eighth in 2005.

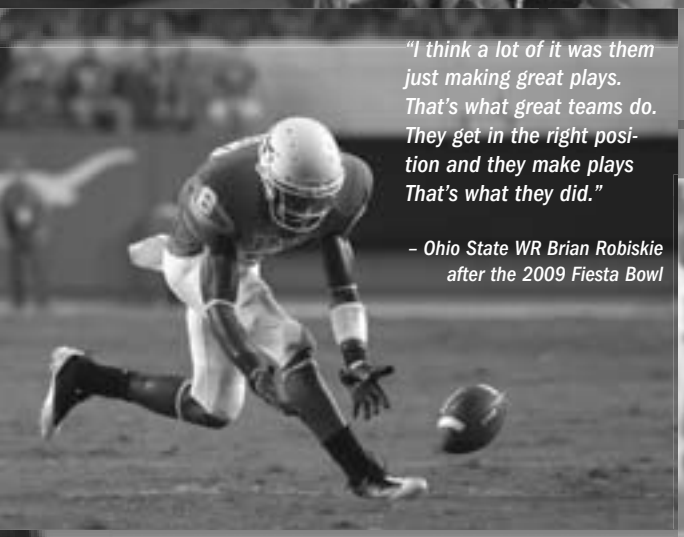
"I wanted to come back for another year so Coach Muschamp can help me better myself. There are a lot of things I still need to work on, but I know Coach Muschamp is going to help me fulfill all of that."

– Senior LB/DE Sergio Kindle

MIKE TOLLESON,
Defensive Tackles/Special Teams Coordinator

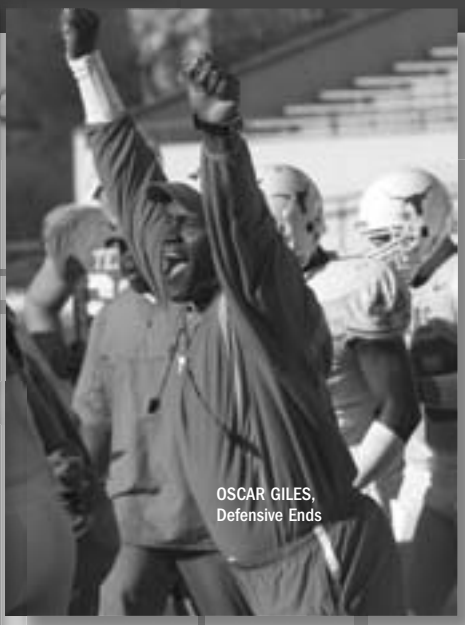
"I tip my hat to them. They definitely flew around and made plays. They pressured our quarterback and when you get that kind of pressure on the quarterback, you're going to have a tough time out there."

– Colorado WR Patrick Williams in 2008



"I think a lot of it was them just making great plays. That's what great teams do. They get in the right position and they make plays That's what they did."

– Ohio State WR Brian Robiskie after the 2009 Fiesta Bowl



OSCAR GILES,
Defensive Ends

"Coach Muschamp is a phenomenal coach. He has a lot of knowledge for the game itself. I feel that he uses his knowledge and intensity for the game very well together, which makes his coaching style tremendous. I personally love his emotion for this physical sport, but also love his great personality off the field."

—Former UT and current Washington Redskins DE Brian Orakpo

All totaled, Texas' defense has forced 304 turnovers during the Mack Brown era (141 games/2.2 per game), while only giving up 234 turnovers for a plus-70 turnover margin.

Texas' defense has produced an NFL first-round draft pick in seven of the last nine years.

Explosive Power

Jeff Madden was elected president of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association in May 2009.

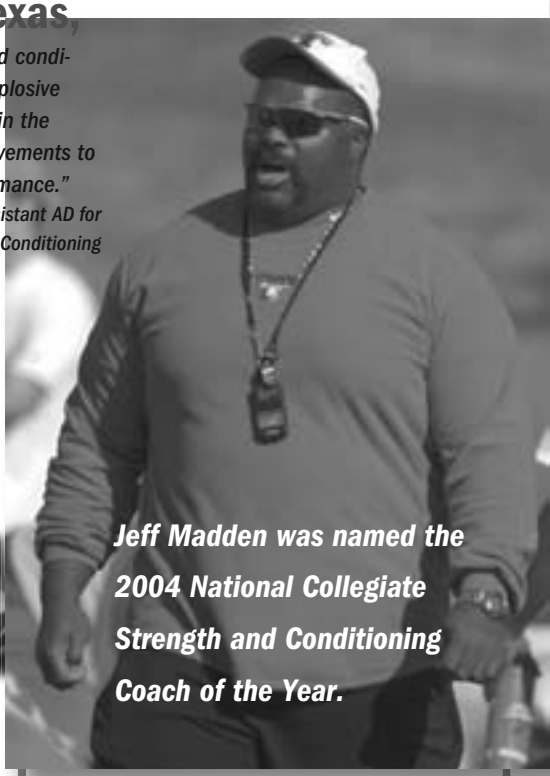
"At The University of Texas, the emphasis of our strength and conditioning program is speed and explosive power. We help each athlete train the total body through explosive movements to reach an optimal athletic performance."

— Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden, Assistant AD for Strength & Conditioning



Jeff Madden was named the 2004 National Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year.

"The Texas team is physically one of the most impressive groups that you'll ever find."

— Mike Tirico, ESPN

"Mad Dog is the one who got me to the NFL!"

Roy Williams, Dallas Cowboys WR who went from weighing just over 200 pounds to doing 16 reps of 225 pounds at Texas is the best strength and conditioning coach in the country. For example, I came in at 210 lbs., and I got to 260. He puts on good weight and makes everybody stronger, bigger and faster."

"I think Mad Dog

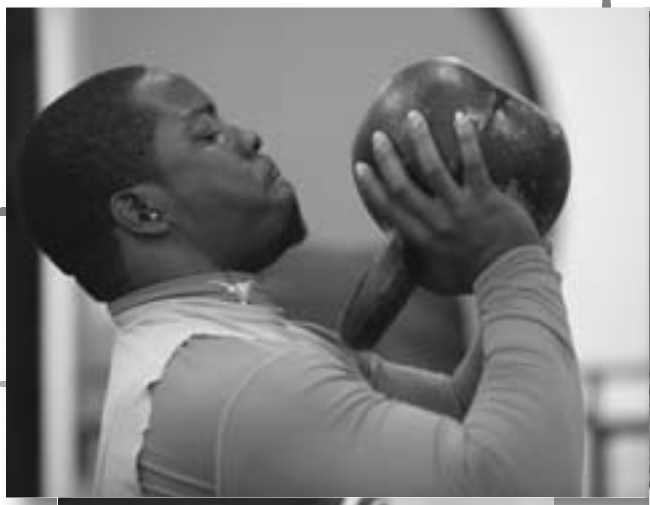
— Brian Orakpo, former UT and current Washington Redskins DE



In June of 2003,

Jeff Madden was elected into the USA Strength and Conditioning Coaches Hall of Fame.

The Dr. Nasser Al-Rashid Strength and Training Center is a whopping 20,000 square feet. The state-of-the-art facility includes:

- A three-lane, 70-yard astroturf running track
- A 35-by-45-foot astroturf plyometric training center
- A computer-based performance training center
- Video-based training systems and instructional facilities
- Brand-new customized weight training equipment
- A top-of-the-line sound system

Jeff Madden

was one of just 10 coaches nationally to receive the title of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach at the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Assocation (CSCCa) convention in 2001. The honor represents what the association says "is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach and represents professionalism, knowledge, experience and expertise."

Explosive Power

Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden's challenging strength and conditioning program has helped prepare more than 200 players for the NFL.

"The workouts definitely get you ready. It all starts in the summers, and by the time you reach the season, Coach Madden has you ready for anything."
— Senior LB Roddrick Muckelroy

"The Longhorns, upholders of a long and legendary football tradition, are explosive, fast and formidable."
— Brent Musburger, ESPN

Jeff Madden was named the 2005 College Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year, by Samson Equipment in association with American Football Monthly.

"We want our linemen to run like our linebackers. We want our linebackers to run like our DBs and our wide receivers. And we want our running backs, wide receivers, and DBs to run like the fastest men in the world."
— Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden

"Jeff has as much knowledge as any coach out there and works extremely hard to stay ahead of his field. Most importantly, he does a tremendous job relating strength, conditioning and flexibility to the football field. Jeff is not only the best strength and conditioning person in our business, he also is a terrific counselor of young men."

— Mack Brown

"There is no one better than Coach Madden.

He is definitely a leader. He gets us going, he gets us right, he gets us in shape and conditioned. Being able to have him there and listen to him, he has put so many guys out into the NFL. He is getting us ready year after year."

— Senior QB Colt McCoy

"Texas beat us in every way.

Physically, they were stronger than we were. They lined up and played their techniques and overpowered us."

— Arkansas head coach Bobby Petrino in 2008

"One of the staff members has had an influence on my life. I might ask him to come up here. Mad Dog. My body is what it is today because of Mad Dog. I appreciate you. He told me once — he said, 'If you make it to Washington, I promise you, Mr. President-to-be, I'm coming up there with a team of champions.' And he did."

— President George W. Bush, during the White House ceremony following the 2005 National Championship

"I had a great foundation from all the great coaches and training staff at Texas like Mad Dog. It was a smooth transition to the NFL. Some of the workouts were actually probably not as hard as Mad Dog's because we focused on different things, but being able to have that background made it easy to work."

Fantastic Facilities

Texas Longhorns
Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex

is a monument to Longhorns football pride. Honoring the greats in Texas football history and featuring every possible amenity in a spacious environment, the facility is considered by many to be the best in the country.

The Longhorns' team meeting room has been redesigned. New theater-style seating and carpeting are the most recent upgrades.

Trophy Room

The football complex features a trophy room to display the many honors in UT history, a display recognizing Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium's past, present and future, and a computer kiosk with on-demand access to everything you could imagine relating to Texas football history. Legendary Longhorns Darrell Royal and Earl Campbell have an office displaying the National Championship trophies in the facility. The hallways also feature plaques and pictures honoring every UT All-American and Academic All-American.

Texas' practice facility, named for UT benefactor Frank Denius features two full-size prescription athletic turf fields as well as an artificial turf indoor facility.

"The Bubble" at Denius Fields keeps excessive heat, freezing temperatures, rain, lightning or other hazardous weather conditions from halting or hindering Longhorns football preparation. Completed in 2002, this $4 million indoor practice multi-purpose facility is a 69,750-square-foot training center with a 55-foot high ceiling. The building is air-conditioned and houses a full-sized astro-turf practice field.

"The locker room is like a home away from home. When we are in there, it's just fun and family. We're a bunch of big brothers who like to goof around and hang out together until it is time to get down to business."

— Bo Scaife, former UT tight end and current Tennessee Titan

"I have heard so many good things about the program and with the success they have had, and it certainly is great to see it now and look at the facilities. There is a lot of great tradition here, you walk through the hallways and see these players. It's pretty impressive."

— Sean Payton, New Orleans Saints head coach

(Right) The new academic center on the second floor of Moncrief-Neuhaus is three times the size of the previous area and will feature writing, math and computer labs, numerous tutoring areas, a multimedia classroom and academic staff office space.

The locker room, weight room, training room, team meeting room and academic center in Moncrief-Neuhaus are all just steps away from each other.

"Not only are they nice on the inside, but they also serve their functional purpose. We travel all over the country, and I would say these are some of the best anywhere."

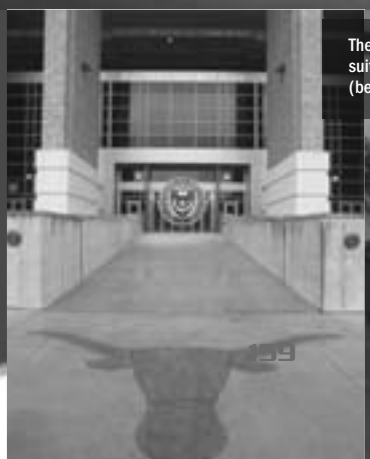
— Kirk Herbstreit, ESPN analyst



The North End Zone area features brand new levels of suites, the Red McCombs Red Zone, a food court area (below) and new entry way into the stadium (left).

Fantastic Facilities

In 2008, Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium held an average of 98,000 fans. Adjustments to the south end zone will increase capacity, resulting in over 100,000 fans being on hand for Texas home games.

"The new upper deck is amazing.

Our stadium was always loud, but now, it's unbelievable. You look up and there is just a wall of orange. Coach Brown and the staff keep all of the facilities a step ahead of everybody else."

— Senior OG Charlie Tanner

The 1999-2008 seasons have been the best on record for Texas football attendance. All 60 home games attracted more than 80,000 fans. The top 10 on UT's all-time home attendance list have come in that era.

"Anytime I run into players from other teams around the country, they always ask about our facilities. Word gets out fast that everything at Texas is first class."

— Roy Williams, former UT All-America and current Dallas Cowboys WR

Daktronics designed and built the largest high-definition video display in collegiate sports for Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium.

The position meeting rooms in Moncrief-Neuhaus are newly decorated.

"The facilities at Texas are probably the best in America. It's quite amazing to see the facilities that are available to the players. I would say it is the preeminent facility in all of college football."

— Marty Schottenheimer, former San Diego Chargers head coach

Texas installed new FieldTurf in the spring of 2009 to provide a more stable and versatile surface.

"The facilities at Texas are state-of-the-art, as nice as any place in the whole country. You couldn't come to a place that has a better facility than they have right here."

— Randy White, pro and college football Hall of Famer

The coaching staff and Darrell Royal in a new north end zone suite in the Red McCombs Red Zone.

Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium completed its expansion plans for the north end zone, which features an all sports academic center, a war memorial plaza and 9,000 additional seats, in 2008.

"The fact that there is such an incredible facility makes (Pro Day) a lot easier. Most places that we have gone, the weight rooms aren't as big and they don't have the 40-yard dash inside the weight room. I haven't been everywhere, but I have been to several other big programs, and I haven't seen anything like this before."

— Todd McShay, ESPN draft analyst

The coaches offices have recently been redecorated.

Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium renovations in 2006 included a redesign of the Carpenter-Winkel Centennial Room, in addition to a completely remodeled press box.

Texas' retired numbers were added to the face of the upper deck in the renovated north end zone.

Fantastic Facilities

The 20,000-square foot Dr. Nasser Al-Rashid Strength and Training Center (right and below) features customized training equipment, computer and video-based training systems, a 70-yard astroturf track and a top-of-the-line sound system.

"The locker room is great. It's a place the team comes together. From playing dominos to hanging out and watching the new flat screen TVs on the new couches, it's part of our home. Then you have everything you need just a few steps away with the weight room, academics center and training room. It's all there."

— Former UT and current Washington Redskins DE Brian Orakpo

Texas' 4,500-square foot training room combines the best rehabilitation and training facilities with on-site physician exam rooms.

The halls of Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Facility are newly decorated and now house the team's sealed historical honored lockers for national award winners and Hall of Fame head coach Darrell Royal. They also help accomodate Texas' large collection of trophies.

"The facilites are constantly being updated. The meeting rooms have been remodeled and the new academic center is going to be incredible. Coach Brown and the staff are always looking to provide us anything we need to be successful."

— Junior DE Sam Acho

"Texas is truly where you come to measure yourself. The competition here is the best. From who you line up against in the regular season to bowls and especially practices, you'll play against the best every time you're on the field."

— Senior C Chris Hall

Big-Time Competition

Big 12 teams

have won or shared 18 national football championships in various wire service and coaches' polls since 1939. The conference led the nation in championships in the 1990's with a total of four and has claimed six of the last 16 national titles.

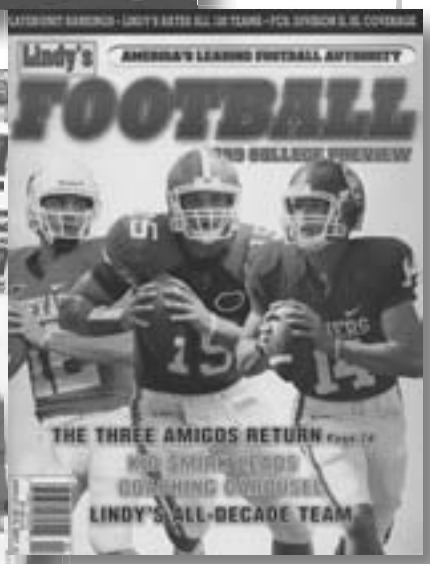
Colt McCoy greets Ohio State QB Terrelle Pryor after Texas' 24-21 win in the 2009 Fiesta Bowl.



Texas' recent non-conference schedule has matched the Longhorns against major opponents such as UCLA, Stanford, North Carolina, Arkansas and Ohio State. The Longhorns' five-game bowl winning streak has included Michigan, USC, Iowa, Arizona State and Ohio State.

The Big 12, which sent eight teams to bowl games in 2001, '02, '03, '05, '06 and '07, has an agreement to send eight league representatives to a selection of nine bowl games in 2009. In addition to an automatic berth in the Bowl Championship Series (which began prior to the 1998 season), the Big 12 also has agreements with the Valero Alamo Bowl, AT&T Cotton Bowl, Pacific Life Holiday Bowl, Advocare 100 Independence Bowl, Insight Bowl and Texas Bowl, in addition to partial agreements with the Konica Minolta Gator Bowl and Brut Sun Bowl.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Texas is one of only nine schools that have won each of the four "original" New Year's Day bowl games (Cotton, Orange, Rose, Sugar).
- The 2009 Fiesta Bowl between Texas and Ohio State drew a 10.4 rating, a 34 percent ratings increase from the 2008 Fiesta Bowl, making it the third-most watched game of the 2008 season.
- The 2006 Alamo Bowl's 6.0 rating translates into 5,521,220 households and 8.83 million viewers, the most-watched bowl game in ESPN history at that time.
- The University of Texas has one of the proudest postseason traditions in the nation. Dating back to their first appearance in 1943, the Longhorns' 48 all-time bowl appearances are second-most in NCAA history and tops among Big 12 schools. Some of the greatest moments in Texas football history have capped off terrific seasons in bowl game victories, including recent game-winning scores with no time left (2005 Rose Bowl), 19 seconds left (2006 Rose Bowl) and 16 seconds left (2009 Fiesta Bowl).
- A week of fun and festivities with your Longhorn teammates at a bowl game is the reward for a successful season. Texas has played in 10 different bowl games at sites ranging from Miami, San Diego, Dallas, Phoenix, New Orleans, Pasadena and San Antonio.
- Texas' five consecutive bowl wins in the 2004 (Rose), 2005 (Rose), 2006 (Alamo), 2007 (Holiday) and 2008 (Fiesta) seasons are a first in UT history, including three BCS wins.

"Bowl week is special.

You have all of the activities, which are great, but it's a time when the team really comes together on the field. The seniors are playing in their final game and we've always done anything we can to send them out right and finish the season right for everyone."

BIG-TIME RIVALRIES

There is no rivalry in the nation quite like it. Dallas' Cotton Bowl is located an equal distance from both Austin and Norman, Okla. Fans, wearing their school colors proudly, arrive as early as Friday afternoon to take in the Texas State Fair, a fixture of Texas-OU weekend since 1929. Later, the faithful hit the streets of Dallas for an evening of revelry. On game day, the stadium looks as if the Texas-Oklahoma border runs right across the 50-yard line. In one direction is a sea of burnt orange and white, and the other, crimson and cream.

"To be a part of that atmosphere is great. It's just what college football is all about and what it should be like – two great teams going at each other on a huge stage. The atmosphere with the fair and the fans split down the middle is like nothing else."

— Senior WR Jordan Shipley

"To me, the most interesting and exciting thing about college football in the last few years is what has developed between Texas and Oklahoma. Having the rivalry at that sort of combustible level is just tremendous for the sport. There is something mythic and epic about the rivalry that spans the decades that makes it more than a Tennessee-Florida, for example. There's something timeless about it ... it is one of the most exciting things going on in the sport."

Thanksgiving Week Tradition

The Texas-Texas A&M rivalry has been an annual Thanksgiving holiday event with 69 of the 115 meetings held on or around Turkey Day. Starting in 2008, the game is once again being played on Thanksgiving.

The annual Hex Rally, held during the week of the Texas-Texas A&M game, draws tens of thousands of UT fans.

"It is a big rivalry game.

A lot of the guys on their team played with our guys in high school. It's about bragging rights. We can't look at the past. We can't look at their record. We can't look at our record. The game is all about now."

— Aaron Ross, former UT All-American and current New York Giant

PEP RALLY

The annual Hex Rally ritual was started by a palm reader, who was asked by students to place a curse on the Aggies and end a UT losing streak. The Longhorns won the game, and the rally became an annual tradition. Each year before the game, thousands of Longhorn fans, led by enthusiastic spirit groups, light candles and converge on the steps of UT's Main Building to hex the Aggies once again.

"The Lone Star Showdown is an amazing rivalry. The rivalry is everything between the fans and it's bragging rights for each university because we play in Texas. To be able to play against A&M and to have the Lone Star Showdown is a lot of fun."

— Senior QB Colt McCoy

Proud Traditions

"Tradition and Texas go hand in hand. You feel it everywhere you go. You walk in the halls of the football building and there are pictures of All-Americans and the honored lockers and trophy after trophy. When you put on that uniform, you know what it stands for and you can feel the meaning behind it."

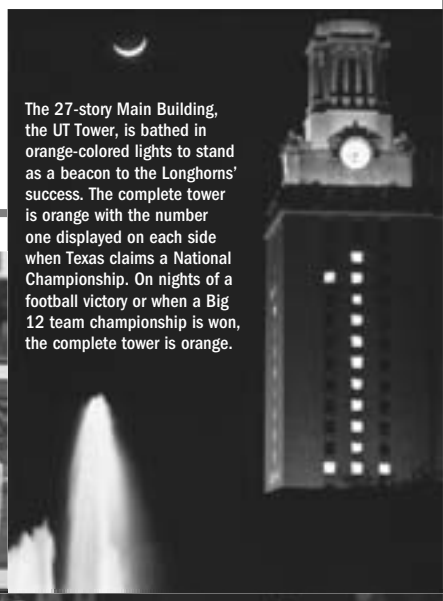
— Junior OT Kyle Hix

Texas' world-renowned

"Hook 'Em Horns" sign, created by head cheerleader Harley Clark in 1955, was voted the nation's top hand signal by Sports Illustrated. Three seasons ago, its 50th Anniversary was celebrated.

"This is such an unbelievable honor, having my jersey retired along with a group of Longhorn football legends like Earl (Campbell), Ricky (Williams), Bobby Layne and Tommy Nobis. It's humbling to be among that group. UT has been great to me. I have so many wonderful memories and I can't thank Coach Brown, the coaches and staff, DeLoss (Dodds) and everyone enough for this great honor. Wow, it's just really something special that I could never have dreamed of – seeing my jersey hanging in the stadium at a place I love so much. That's something my family can enjoy and be proud of forever."

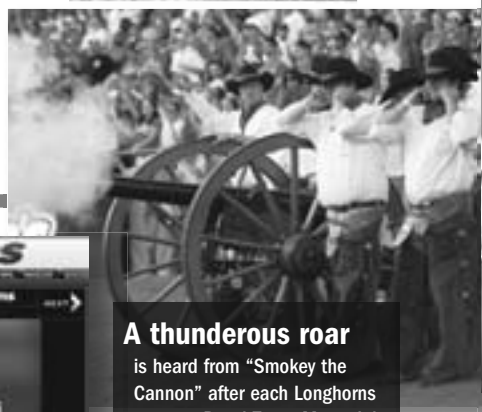
— Vince Young on his jersey retirement



The 27-story Main Building, the UT Tower, is bathed in orange-colored lights to stand as a beacon to the Longhorns' success. The complete tower is orange with the number one displayed on each side when Texas claims a National Championship. On nights of a football victory or when a Big 12 team championship is won, the complete tower is orange.

Longhorns football pep rallies draw thousands of fans to the UT campus.

In 2008, the jerseys of Vince Young, Tommy Nobis and Bobby Layne were retired, joining Ricky Williams and Earl Campbell as the only Longhorns football players to have their numbers officially retired.



A thunderous roar is heard from "Smokey the Cannon" after each Longhorns score at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium. Two blank 10-gauge shotgun shells ignite the scoring celebration.

"The University of Texas stands for a lot more than just football, but I know how important football is there, and we have had a lot of great teams and great players. When I think of all of the people who have walked onto that field, to be pulled out and recognized as one of the best is really special for me and my family."

The Longhorn: A Tough Survivor

Bevo, a Texas Longhorn, has been a fixture at UT games since 1966. The Longhorns mascot epitomizes the pride and tradition of Texas Football. The Longhorn was an important part of the building of the American West. Brought to the North American continent by Spanish explorers, the breed has flourished for almost 500 years. With its roots on the hot, arid plains of South Texas, the Longhorn became a major food source for young America. First it survived with little grass and food to eat. In a world vulnerable to attack, its long horns and strong legs became effective weapons against wild animals looking for prey.

When the railroad made places such as Omaha and Kansas City chief stops for a nation moving west, cattlemen used the famed Chisolm Trail to drive their cattle to market. The 1,000-mile trek would take months, but while other breeds couldn't make it because of the long odds, the lean, mean Longhorn survived.

Independent, never tame, and always on guard, Longhorns grow to a ton or more, and the span of the great horns can reach six to nine feet. In the early 1900s, when The University of Texas was looking for a mascot, none fit better for the young college than the Longhorn — a breed apart because of its toughness and strength, determination to survive, and will to win against all odds.

GAMEDAY EXCITEMENT

Success on the gridiron is the biggest attraction in Austin, but the football game isn't the only tradition when it comes to The University of Texas and its weekly spectacle. A Texas football game is an event. Surrounded by the hoopla that most collegiate programs and athletes can only dream of, a Longhorns football game day is a memorable experience.

As Longhorn players exit the dressing room for a game, they pass by the Steinmark Scoreboard and touch his picture in recognition of the courage he showed in his fight for life and in facing cancer.

Give 'em Hell! Give 'em Hell!
Go, Horns, Go!
And it's goodbye to all the rest.

1963 National Champions

Following two seasons that saw Texas flirt with its first National Championship, the Longhorns opened the 1963 campaign as the No. 1 team in the nation according to Sports Illustrated and Street & Smith's Football Yearbook. The Associated Press did not agree and forced UT to work its way up the ladder with a preseason No. 5 ranking.

After a pair of decisive season-opening wins at Tulane (21-0) and against Texas Tech (49-7), UT rapidly climbed into The AP Poll's No. 2 spot. Texas held that position after a 34-7 win against Oklahoma State and that set the stage for a battle for the nation's top spot in the annual rivalry with No. 1 Oklahoma, in Dallas.

A convincing 28-7 win against the Sooners rocketed the Longhorns to No. 1 and they maintained their ranking through the remainder of the regular season. It wasn't all easy though. In their first week at No. 1, UT nearly blew a 17-0 halftime lead in a 17-13 win at Arkansas and got another scare in a 7-0 win against Baylor later on in Austin.

In the biggest play of the season, Duke Carlisle made a sensational leaping interception of what looked like a sure last-minute, game-tying Baylor touchdown pass. With 29 seconds remaining in the game and Baylor at UT's 19-yard line, Bears quarterback Don Trull was looking at his favorite target, Lawrence Elkins, who was running a post pattern. Elkins had eluded UT's Joe Dixon and looked to be wide open as he approached the goal line before Carlisle, who had covered nearly 15 yards since the ball left Trull's hand, made the miraculous play.

"Thank you, Duke. You saved my life," Dixon said to Carlisle after the game-saving catch.

The Longhorns avoided another upset attempt in a 15-13 victory at Texas A&M, scoring the winning touchdown on a Carlisle 1-yard plunge with 1:19 remaining in the game. UT entered the fourth quarter trailing 13-3 before putting the finishing touches on the victory.

Since there was no Associated Press postseason poll, Texas went into its Cotton Bowl matchup against No. 2 Navy with The AP national title already secured, but the Football Writers Association and the Helms Foundation withheld naming a National Champion until after the game. The Midshipmen were expected to provide quite a test behind the multi-talented skills of junior quarterback Roger Staubach, who had claimed the Heisman Trophy during the season.

The national TV pregame introductions produced a surprise and a challenge. When he was introduced, Midshipmen head coach Wayne Hardin said pointedly, "When the challenger meets the champion and the challenger wins, then there's a new champion." This seemed to raise Darrell Royal's hackles and he replied grimly, "We're ready."

Texas jumped out to a quick 21-0 halftime lead, and behind standout defenders Tommy Nobis and Scott Appleton, frustrated the scrambling Staubach. In the meantime, the Longhorns flourished behind a memorable performance by Carlisle, who was voted the outstanding back of the game. He connected with Phil Harris on 58-yard and 63-yard scoring tosses while rolling up 213 passing yards and 267 total yards on the day. UT secured a consensus National Championship with a decisive 28-6 win.

"I've never seen a team which deserved to be No. 1 more than Texas," Hardin said after the game. "Texas was just the best we've played, that's all. Staubach didn't play as well as usual, but I imagine Texas had a lot to do with that."

Appleton earned consensus All-America and All-Southwest Conference honors, running back Tommy Ford rushed for 738 yards and earned All-America and All-SWC recognition, Nobis was a consensus All-SWC pick and the American Football Coaches Association tabbed Royal its Coach of the Year. Appleton, Ford and center David McWilliams served as captains for the Longhorns, who finished with a perfect 11-0 record and 7-0 mark in SWC play.

1969 National Champions

The 1969 season marked the 100th year of college football and ABC television executive Beano Cook arranged for Texas and Arkansas to play the final game of the regular season, moving their usual October date to the first weekend in December.

For a long while, it looked as though the game would be a meeting of also-rans. Ohio State was dominating the Big Ten and the chances of the game being anything other than just the last game of the season were pretty remote.

However, as the Longhorns took a Saturday off to prepare for their upcoming game on Thanksgiving Day with Texas A&M, Michigan and its upstart coach Bo Schembechler upset the Buckeyes. Texas vaulted to No. 1 in the polls and Arkansas claimed the No. 2 spot.

That set the stage. Even the day took on an eerie feeling. The night before, a steady, cold rain fell in Fayetteville and an icy fog hovered over the stadium as the crowd awaited the arrival of President Richard Nixon, who would award a plaque symbolic of the National Championship to the winner.

In the 100th year of college football, it truly was the "Game of the Century." The Longhorns overcame turnovers and a 14-0 Arkansas lead to post a 15-14 victory. James Street scrambled for one touchdown, got a two-point conversion and then hit Randy Peschel on a dramatic 4th-and-3 play late in the game. Donnie Wigginton, the third-string quarterback who was the holder, made a big save on a high snap and Happy Feller booted the extra point for the winning score with 3:58 remaining. Tom Campbell's interception on UT's 21-yard line halted Arkansas' final drive.

Less than a week later, when safety Fred Steinmark underwent surgery for the removal of his leg because of bone cancer, UCLA administrators watching the Longhorns play basketball in Los Angeles actually wept.

The Cotton Bowl prompted a great deal of interest with No. 1 Texas hosting No. 9 Notre Dame. The Fighting Irish were making their first bowl appearance since the "Four Horsemen" beat Stanford 27-10 in the 1925 Rose Bowl. Ara Parseghian's 8-1-1 squad was ending its 44-year self-imposed departure from bowls.

Again, it took some dramatics for a Texas win. UT trailed 17-14 midway through the final period before Street directed the Horns 76 yards for the winning score. Billy Dale's 1-yard run capped the drive and gave UT a 21-17 lead and the 500th win in school history.

In the locker room after the 21-17 victory, Royal gave Steinmark the game ball. The little safety would become a national symbol of courage as he battled cancer for a year-and-a-half before dying in June 1971.

An ABC-TV poll of sportswriters tabbed Royal Coach of the Decade after wrapping up the 1960s with a pair of national titles. Tackle Bob McKay earned consensus All-America and All-Southwest Conference honors, while linebacker Glen Halsell, wide receiver Cotton Speyrer, running back Steve Worster and offensive tackle Bob Wuensch each earned All-America and All-SWC recognition. Street, tackle Leo Brooks and defensive end Bill Atessis each earned consensus All-SWC honors. Halsell, Ted Koy and Street served as captains for the 11-0 (7-0, SWC Champions) Longhorns.

1970 National Champions

Texas entered the 1970 season with a 20-game winning streak on the line and as the defending National Champions. With all of their startling credentials, the Longhorns entered the season ranked No. 2 behind Ohio State in the polls.

Despite a rash of preseason injuries, UT stormed into the year with a pair of decisive victories against California (56-15) and at Texas Tech (35-13).

The win over the Golden Bears propelled the Longhorns into the No. 1 spot in the UPI poll and narrowed their gap on Ohio State for the top spot in The AP poll. Despite the easy win against Tech, the Horns dropped back to No. 2 in the UPI poll, with Ohio State claiming a unanimous No. 1, again.

With UT's winning streak standing at 22 games, it appeared that the string of success with the unstoppable "Wishbone" had finally run out. In the season's third week, No. 13 UCLA conceived a unique defense which stymied the Longhorns. The Bruins appeared ready to end the streak with a 17-13 lead, 25 seconds remaining and Texas 45 yards away from the end zone. It was then that UT quarterback Eddie Phillips hit Cotton Speyrer in stride at the 25-yard line. Speyrer shook a UCLA defender and crossed the goal line with only 12 seconds left as UT came away with a 20-17 victory.

After the come-from-behind home victory against UCLA, the Longhorns posted back-to-back victories against Oklahoma (41-9) and at Rice (45-21). Those wins vaulted the Longhorns ahead of Ohio State into the nation's top spot.

A 42-15 win against SMU helped the Longhorns maintain the top spot. In its second week at No. 1, UT was forced to hold off a stubborn Baylor team in Waco (21-14) to remain at No. 1.

The Longhorns continued to hold the top spot with decisive victories at TCU (58-0) and against arch-rival Texas A&M (52-14) to set up a battle with No. 4 Arkansas. For the second consecutive year, the meeting with the Razorbacks would decide the Southwest Conference crown.

After claiming their third consecutive SWC crown with a 42-7 win against Arkansas, the Longhorns were awarded the UPI National Championship.

UT entered its Cotton Bowl rematch with No. 6 Notre Dame as the nation's top team in both The AP and UPI polls.

After falling 24-11 to the Fighting Irish, which snapped UT's 30-game winning streak, the Longhorns dropped to No. 3 in The AP poll but remained UPI's National Champion. The 30-game winning streak currently stands as the 12th-longest in NCAA history.

Defensive end Bill Atessis, fullback Steve Worster and offensive tackle Bobby Wuensch earned consensus All-America and All-SWC honors, while linebacker Scott Henderson and Speyrer earned All-America and All-SWC recognition. Running back Jim Bertelsen and offensive guard Bobby Mitchell also earned All-SWC accolades. Henderson, Worster, Wuensch and Zapalac were the captains for the 10-1 (7-0, SWC Champion) Longhorns.

2005 National Champions

Following an 11-1 campaign in 2004 that culminated in the Longhorns' first BCS win over Michigan in their first Rose Bowl, Texas entered the 2005 season ranked No. 2 behind defending champion USC. The ranking was UT's highest in the preseason since 1970, its last championship season.

The Longhorns opened with a 60-3 win over Louisiana-Lafayette as QB Vince Young accounted for four TDs and freshman RB Jamaal Charles made the top freshman rushing debut in UT history with 135 yards.

The win set up a historic first meeting with No. 4 Ohio State. Trailing 22-16, Young connected with WR Limas Sweed on 24-yard TD with 2:17 remaining. The defense held firm, forcing a safety for the 25-22 final to give UT its second-straight win over a Big Ten power.

A 51-10 win over Rice at home, in which Charles racked up 189 rushing yards and three TDs, sent Texas into its bye week and then conference play, where it opened at Missouri. Young produced his first 100-yard passing/rushing game of the season with 236 passing and 108 rushing in the 51-20 victory.

The Red River Rivalry arrived with much being made of Oklahoma's five-game winning streak in the series. However, 2005 would produce a stark contrast, as Texas rolled to a 45-12 win, highlighted by an 80-yard TD run by Charles for a 14-6 lead. The Longhorns never looked back, capping the win with a 67-yard fumble return TD by DT Rod Wright.

Next was No. 24 Colorado, and Young would have one of his finest days passing. He broke his own school record for completion percentage by connecting on 25-of-29 (86.2%) attempts for a career-high 336 yards and two TDs, while also reaching the end zone three times on the ground for a 42-17 win.

That set the stage for undefeated No. 10 Texas Tech. WR Billy Pittman collected his third 100-yard game with a career-high 138 yards and two TDs, while the defense held the nation's top-ranked scoring offense to 17 points for a 52-17 win.

The Longhorns then traveled to Oklahoma State, a team that in 2004 held a 35-7 lead before Texas made the greatest comeback in school history with 49 unanswered points. Again, the Cowboys jumped out, this time 28-9, and again UT responded. This time with 38-unanswered points. Young became the first player in NCAA history to rush for over 250 yards and pass for over 230 in the same game for a UT record 506 yards of total offense.

Texas closed the regular season with wins over Baylor, Kansas and Texas A&M for its first undefeated regular season since 1983, while clinching a spot in the Big 12 Championship, where it would meet Colorado again. The final score was set midway through the third quarter at 70-3, giving Mack Brown his first Big 12 title and sending the Longhorns to the BCS National Championship to face No. 1 USC.

The two teams played a game for the ages. Young took the spotlight from Heisman Trophy winners Reggie Bush and Matt Leinart, becoming the first player in NCAA history to pass and rush for more than 200 yards twice in a career. He recorded 267 yards passing and 200 yards rushing with three TDs, topped by his fourth-down, eight-yard TD run with 19 seconds to go for the 41-38 win.

Young won the Maxwell Award, the O'Brien Award and the Manning Award, and was consensus first-team All-America. Safety Michael Huff became UT's first winner of the Thorpe Award and was unanimous first-team All-America, along with OT Jonathan Scott. Wright also was named consensus first-team All-America.

"I had a week I'll never forget.

It started out with walking across the stage at graduation, then I won the Nagurski in Charlotte, followed by the Lombardi in my hometown of Houston. It doesn't get more special than that. Later, I got to go to Miami and receive the Hendricks Award from Mr. Hendricks himself. I couldn't have done any of it without my teammates and coaches. It meant a lot to bring those trophies back to them."

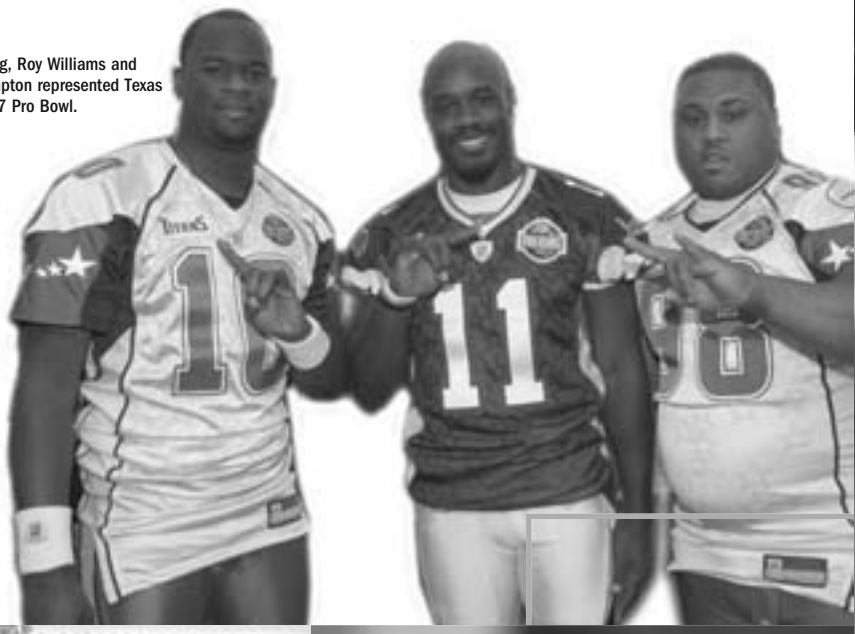
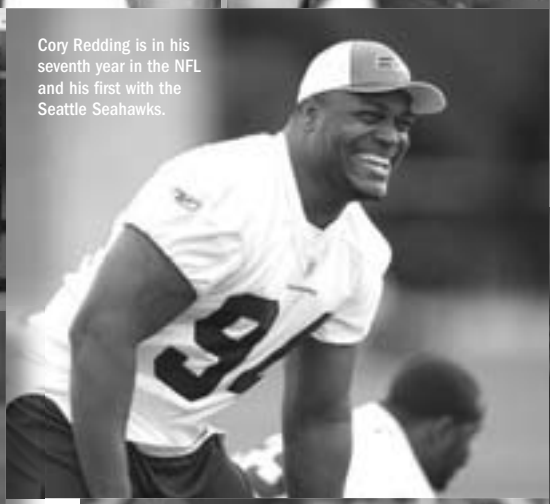
First-round pick:
LB Derrick Johnson (2005)



Vince Young, Roy Williams and Casey Hampton represented Texas in the 2007 Pro Bowl.

"Mack and his staff do an excellent job advising their players what their (draft) value is and what options they have when it comes to professional football. The minute a player steps on campus, they take a special interest in them."

— Gil Brandt, former Director of Player Personnel for the Dallas Cowboys



Cory Redding is in his seventh year in the NFL and his first with the Seattle Seahawks.

"My time at UT definitely helped prepare me for the NFL. A lot of the plays, terminology of the offense and blocking schemes are based on what they do in the league. If you hope to take that step to professional football, the offense at Texas will help prepare you for that."

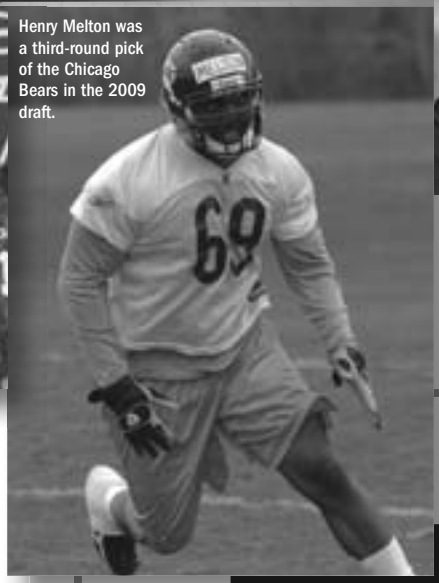
— Leonard Davis, Outland Trophy finalist and 2001 NFL first-round draft pick

First-round pick:
OG Leonard Davis (2001)



Henry Melton was a third-round pick of the Chicago Bears in the 2009 draft.

First-round pick:
WR Roy Williams (2004)

Tarell Brown was chosen in the fifth round of the 2007 draft by the San Francisco 49ers.

In the 2002 NFL Draft, Quentin Jammer and Mike Williams became the first Longhorns duo to be selected among the top five picks.

First-round pick:
CB Quentin Jammer
(2002)

A 2007 first-round pick by the Tennessee Titans, S Michael Griffin made his first trip to the Pro Bowl in 2009.

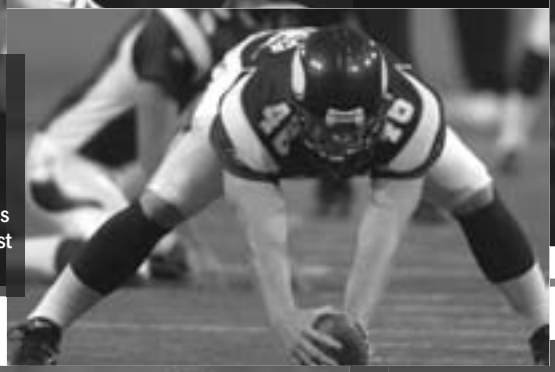
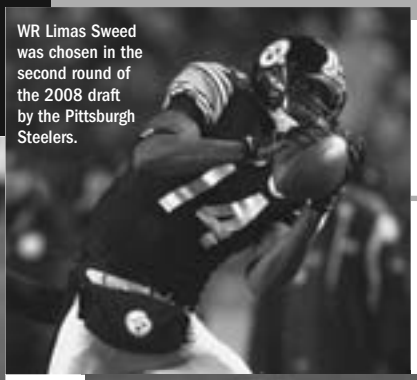
After finishing his career as one of the winningest quarterbacks in UT history and the team's MVP in 2002, Chris Simms is in his seventh year in the NFL and his first with the Denver Broncos.

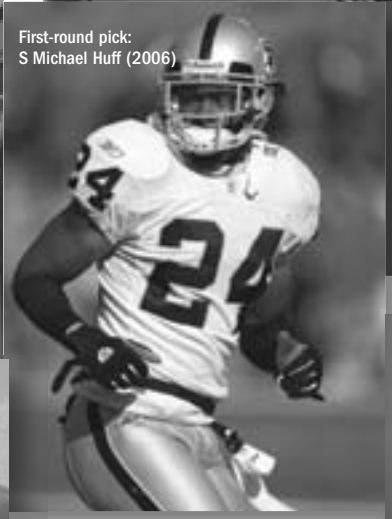
(Below) Cullen Loeffler has started as the Minnesota Vikings deep snapper for the last four years.





WR Limas Sweed was chosen in the second round of the 2008 draft by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

First-round pick:
RB Ricky Williams
(1999)



First-round pick:
S Michael Huff (2006)

In 2006, QB Vince Young and S Michael Huff became the third Longhorn duo in school history to be selected in the top 10, joining CB Quentin Jammer and OT Mike Williams in 2002, and QB Bobby Layne and E Max Bumgardner in 1948.

RB Chris Ogbonnaya was chosen in the seventh round in 2009 by the St. Louis Rams.

2007 first-round pick Aaron Ross with New York Giants head coach Tom Coughlin (left) and Senior Vice President and General Manager Jerry Reese

First-round pick:

(2005)

NFL Longhorns

Texas has 47 players active in the NFL

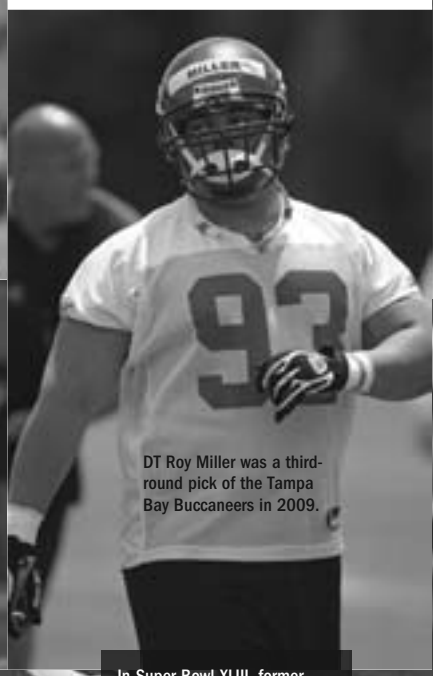
Brian Orakpo became the eighth Longhorn in the Mack Brown era to be invited to New York for the draft, more than double of any other program in that stretch.

Brian Orakpo with NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell

NFL Hall of Famer and former Longhorn Bobby Layne was tabbed the toughest quarterback ever in a Sports Illustrated poll.

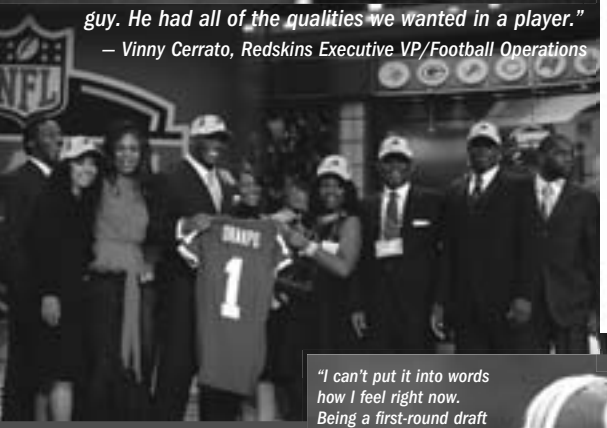
OT Tony Hills (left) was a fourth-round pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 2008.

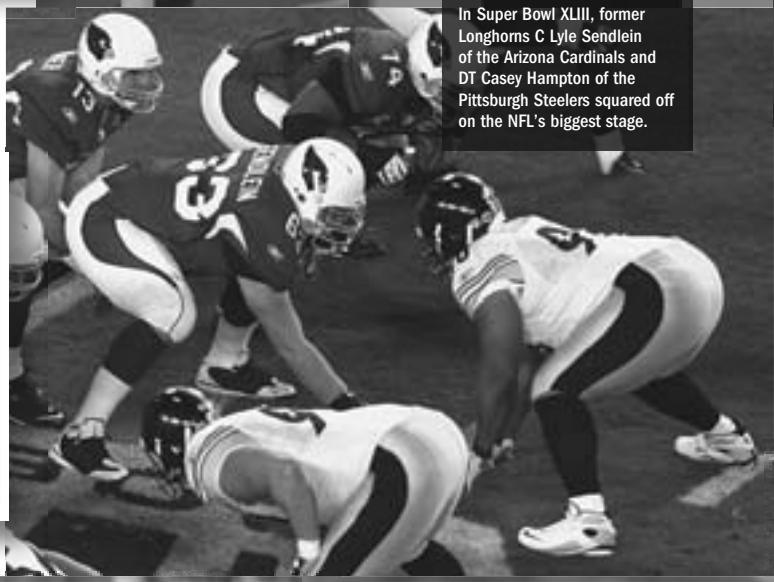
CB Brandon Foster signed a free agent contract with the Indianapolis Colts in 2008.



DT Roy Miller was a third-round pick of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 2009.

"(Brian) is a classy, classy guy. He'll fit well in the locker room. He's a Redskins type of guy. He had all of the qualities we wanted in a player."
— Vinny Cerrato, Redskins Executive VP/Football Operations





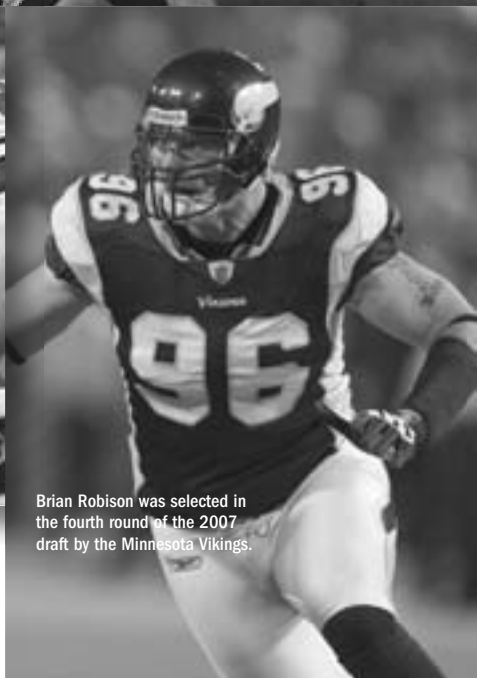
In Super Bowl XLIII, former Longhorns C Lyle Sendlein of the Arizona Cardinals and DT Casey Hampton of the Pittsburgh Steelers squared off on the NFL's biggest stage.

Brian Orakpo was selected 13th overall by the Washington Redskins in the 2009 draft. Orakpo was one of 10 players invited to the green room for the draft, and while in New York, he attended a premier party for EA Sports NCAA Football 10. He became the third UT football player to appear on an EA Sports cover, following Vince Young and Ricky Williams.

"I can't put it into words how I feel right now. Being a first-round draft pick is a dream come true. It really shows how hard work pays off and is a tribute to my family, coaches, teammates - everyone that helped me get here."

— Brian Orakpo
13th overall pick
2009 NFL Draft

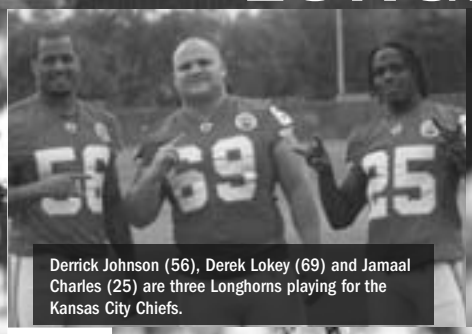
Kasey Studdard was a sixth-round selection by the Houston Texans in 2007.



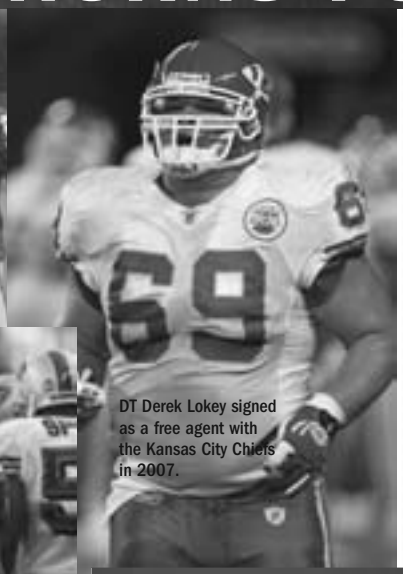
Brian Robison was selected in the fourth round of the 2007 draft by the Minnesota Vikings.

LONGHORNS FOOTBALL

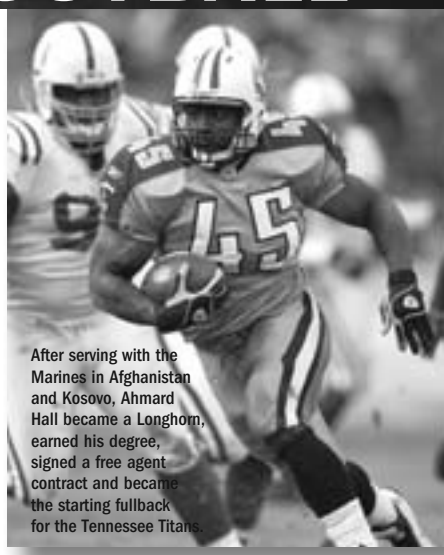
Frank Okam was a fifth-round pick by the Houston Texans in 2008.



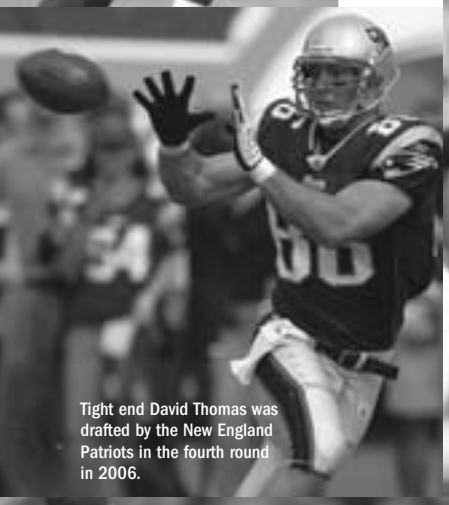
Derrick Johnson (56), Derek Lokey (69) and Jamaal Charles (25) are three Longhorns playing for the Kansas City Chiefs.



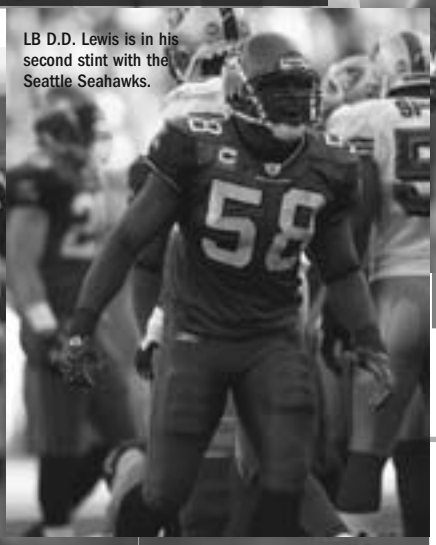
DT Derek Lokey signed as a free agent with the Kansas City Chiefs in 2007.



After serving with the Marines in Afghanistan and Kosovo, Ahmard Hall became a Longhorn, earned his degree, signed a free agent contract and became the starting fullback for the Tennessee Titans.



Tight end David Thomas was drafted by the New England Patriots in the fourth round in 2006.

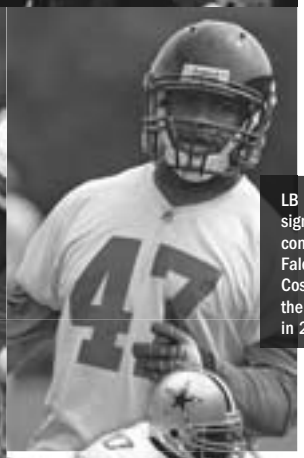


LB D.D. Lewis is in his second stint with the Seattle Seahawks.

First Round Pick: S Michael Griffin (2007)

An All-America kicker who finished his career as the Longhorns' all-time leading kick scorer (339 points), Phil Dawson is in his 10th year as the Cleveland Browns' place-kicker.

A consensus first-team All-American and Outland Trophy finalist at Texas, Leonard Davis was selected with the second pick of the 2001 NFL Draft by the Arizona Cardinals and enters his third season with the Dallas Cowboys.



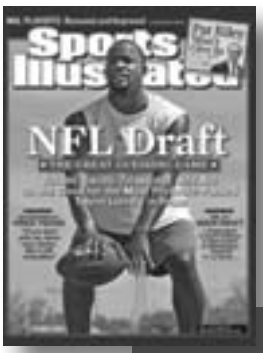
LB Rashad Bobino (left) signed a free agent contract with the Atlanta Falcons and WR Quan Cosby (right) signed with the Cincinnati Bengals in 2009.

The trio of Casey Hampton, Leonard Davis and Shaun Rogers went from Longhorns to draft picks to professionals to Pro Bowlers together.

When Casey Hampton, Leonard Davis and Shaun Rogers (l-r) were all selected in the first two rounds of the 2001 NFL Draft, it marked the first time since 1984 that Texas had three players chosen among the first two rounds. That happened again in 2006 with Vince Young, Michael Huff and Cedric Griffin and increased to four in 2007 with Michael Griffin, Aaron Ross, Justin Blalock and Tim Crowder.

Earl Campbell, Texas' first Heisman Trophy winner in 1977, led the NFL in rushing four times and was enshrined in the NFL Hall of Fame in 1991.

NFL Longhorns



"Based on what I've seen, he just wants to keep getting better and better... I think he has a chance to be a really special player for a long time."

— Carson Palmer, Cincinnati Bengals QB and Vince Young's 2007 Pro Bowl teammate

Vince Young was named the 2006 NFL Rookie of the Year.

Texas' NFL quarterback duo of Chris Simms and Vince Young was drafted by the Tennessee Titans with the third overall selection of the 2006 NFL Draft. Above, Young with his family at the draft.

Vince Young

"The Tennessee Titans quarterback's appearance on the cover of Madden NFL 08 makes him the youngest NFL star to grace the cover. As the first rookie quarterback to go to a NFL Pro Bowl, Vince Young has already emerged as one of the most exciting athletes in the NFL."

— EA Sports

Eleven Longhorns have participated in the last four Super Bowls and 11 have been chosen to the last four Pro Bowls.

"Great job by that young man being disciplined, versatile, having great instincts and he learned all of that at The University of Texas."

— ESPN's Eric Allen, a former Pro Bowl corner-back, on Aaron Ross

For Ross, life adds another sweet ring

Aaron Ross became a starter and Super Bowl Champion with the New York Giants in his rookie season.

Tennessee Titans Vince Young, Ahmard Hall, Michael Griffin and Bo Scaife with former Buffalo Bill and current Washington Redskin Derrick Dockery following a 2007 game.

"The first part of the (2002) NFL draft had a burnt-orange tint."
— Houston Chronicle

Bo Scaife was selected in the sixth round of the 2005 draft by the Tennessee Titans.

Tight end Jermichael Finley was drafted in the third round by the Green Bay Packers in 2008.

Texas' all-time leading receiver Roy Williams was selected by the Detroit Lions with the seventh pick of the 2004 NFL Draft and is in his second season with the Dallas Cowboys.

Wide receiver

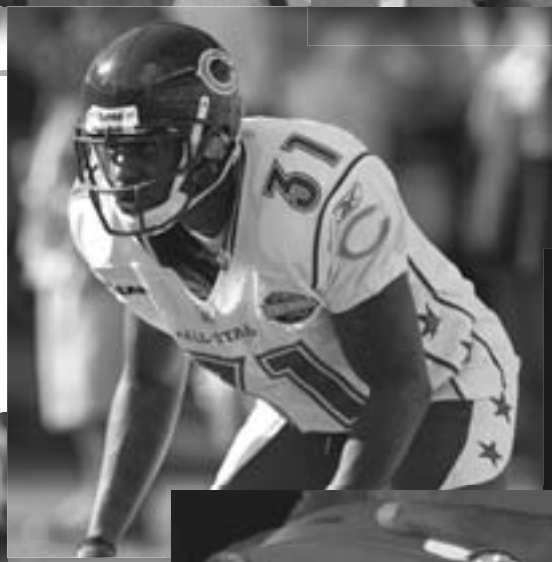
Roy Williams earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl in 2007.

First-round pick: OT Mike Williams (2002)

Jamaal Charles was chosen in the second round of the 2008 draft by the Kansas City Chiefs.

Shaun Rogers

earned his third Pro Bowl selection in 2009.



The Longhorns were represented by Shaun Rogers, Nathan Vasher (left) and Casey Hampton in the 2006 Pro Bowl. Hampton (below) has also won two Super Bowl Championships with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Cedric Benson is in his second season with the Cincinnati Bengals after being selected by the Chicago Bears in the first round of the 2005 draft.

NFL Longhorns

Of the 42 Longhorns drafted in the Mack Brown era, 36 are still active first-team All-American and Texas' first-ever Thorpe Award finalist, Quentin Jammer was selected with the fifth pick of the 2002 NFL Draft by the San Diego Chargers.

Cedric Griffin: 2006 second-round draft pick, Minnesota Vikings

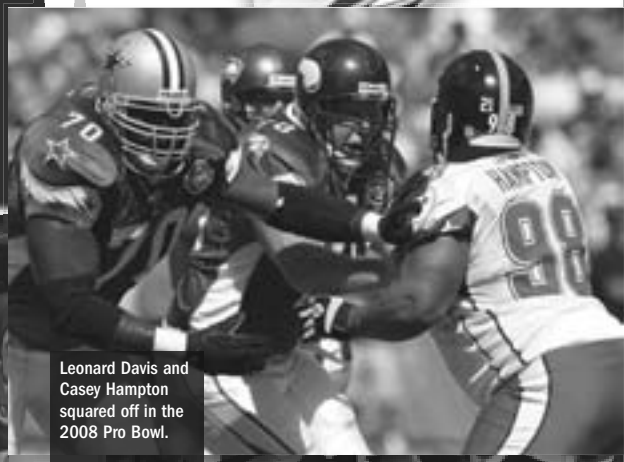
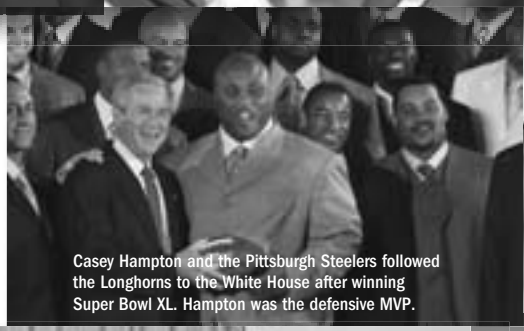
"There are a lot of Longhorns in the NFL. Almost every week, you're playing against them. It's always fun to go against a teammate. The University of Texas gives you an atmosphere to play at a high level. It gets you ready and experienced for the NFL. The winning atmosphere we have, there's no way to be more ready for the NFL than being at Texas."

— Derrick Johnson, former UT and current Kansas City Chiefs LB



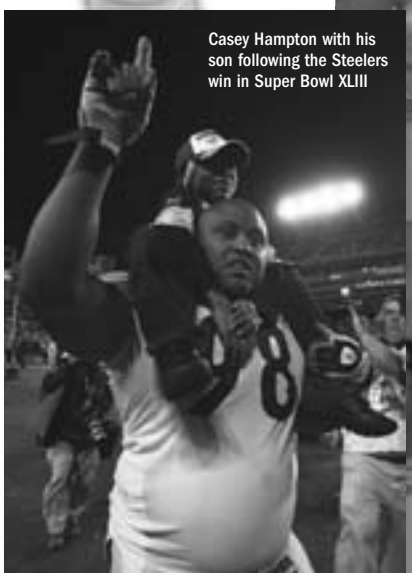
Leonard Davis and Casey Hampton squared off in the 2008 Pro Bowl.

Casey Hampton and Shaun Rogers after a Steelers-Browns game in 2008

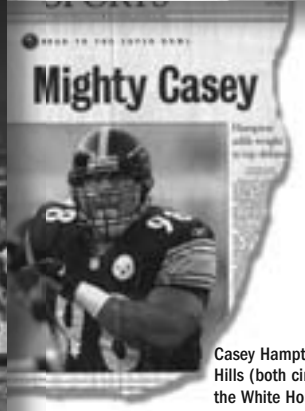


Casey Hampton and the Pittsburgh Steelers followed the Longhorns to the White House after winning Super Bowl XL. Hampton was the defensive MVP.

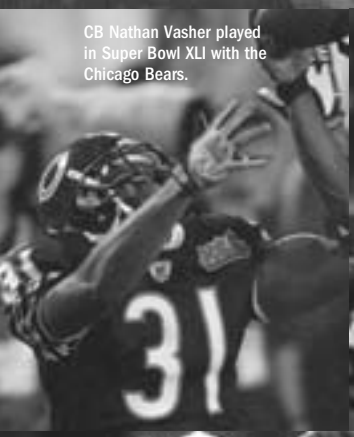
A consensus first-team All-American and the Big 12 Defensive Player of the Year at Texas, Casey Hampton was selected with the 19th pick of the 2001 NFL Draft by the Pittsburgh Steelers. He is now a four-time Pro Bowler and two-time Super Bowl champion.



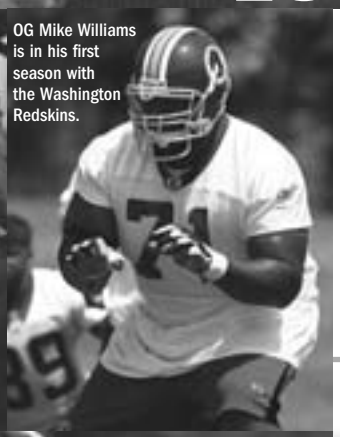
Casey Hampton with his son following the Steelers win in Super Bowl XLIII



Casey Hampton and Tony Hills (both circled) visited the White House after the Steelers' Super Bowl Championship in 2009.



CB Nathan Vasher played in Super Bowl XLI with the Chicago Bears.



OG Mike Williams is in his first season with the Washington Redskins.

DT Shaun Rogers and RB Cedric Benson represent one of the frequent examples of former Longhorns squaring off on Sundays.

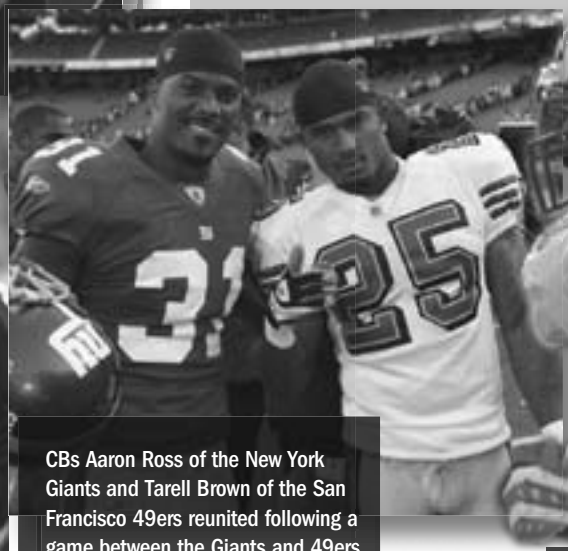
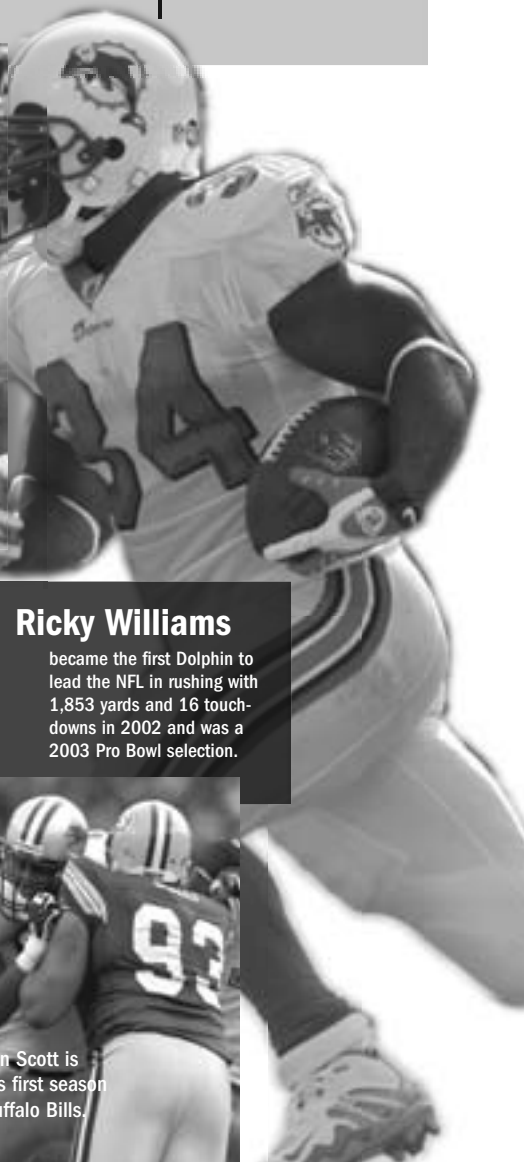
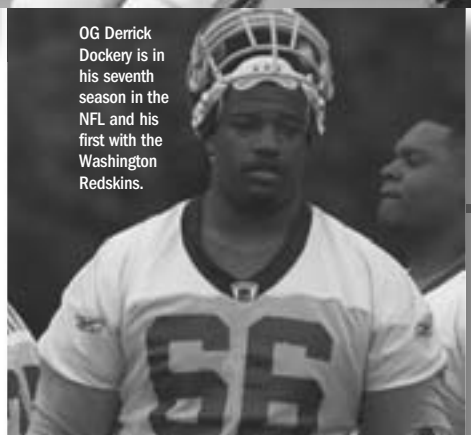
Rod Wright was selected in the seventh round of the 2006 draft by the Miami Dolphins.



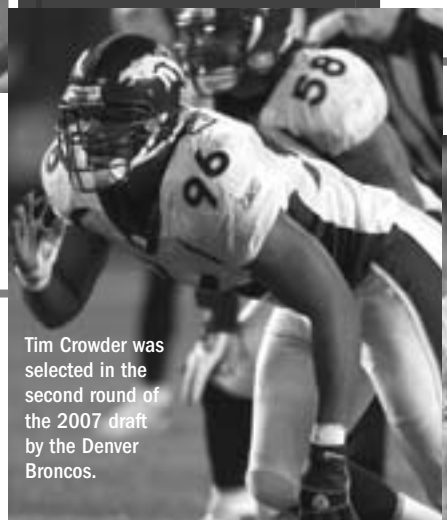
CBs Aaron Ross of the New York Giants and Tarell Brown of the San Francisco 49ers reunited following a game between the Giants and 49ers in 2008.



Ricky Williams became the first Dolphin to lead the NFL in rushing with 1,853 yards and 16 touchdowns in 2002 and was a 2003 Pro Bowl selection.



OG Derrick Dockery is in his seventh season in the NFL and his first with the Washington Redskins.



Tim Crowder was selected in the second round of the 2007 draft by the Denver Broncos.

OT Jonathan Scott is entering his first season with the Buffalo Bills.

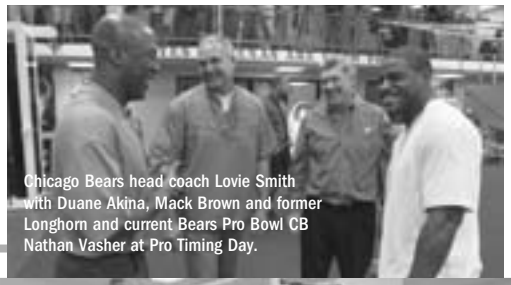
Pro Prospects

As many as 150 NFL

representatives, ranging from owners, presidents, vice presidents and general managers to head coaches, assistant coaches and chief scouts, are on hand as Longhorns show off their stuff each spring at Pro Timing Day.

"It's always amazing to see our pro day. There are always hundreds of scouts on hand. It makes you realize that if you perform well at UT, you'll get your chance to play in the NFL."
— Derrick Johnson, Longhorn All-American and 2005 first-round draft pick

"It is a first-class organization from top to bottom. They've done a great job welcoming us to the facilities, treating us first class and making it a real smooth day. We do a lot of different pro days, and this is one of the best-run events. It makes it very easy for the coaches."
— Todd Wash, Tampa Bay Buccaneers defensive line coach

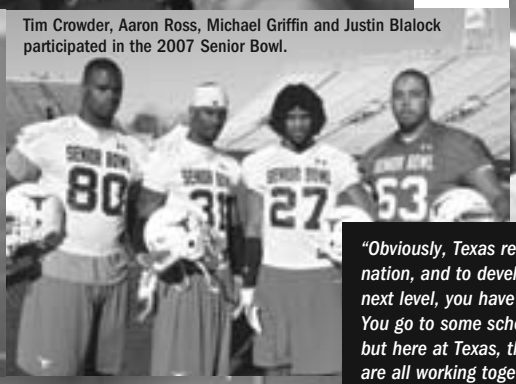


Chicago Bears head coach Lovie Smith with Duane Akina, Mack Brown and former Longhorn and current Bears Pro Bowl CB Nathan Vasher at Pro Timing Day.

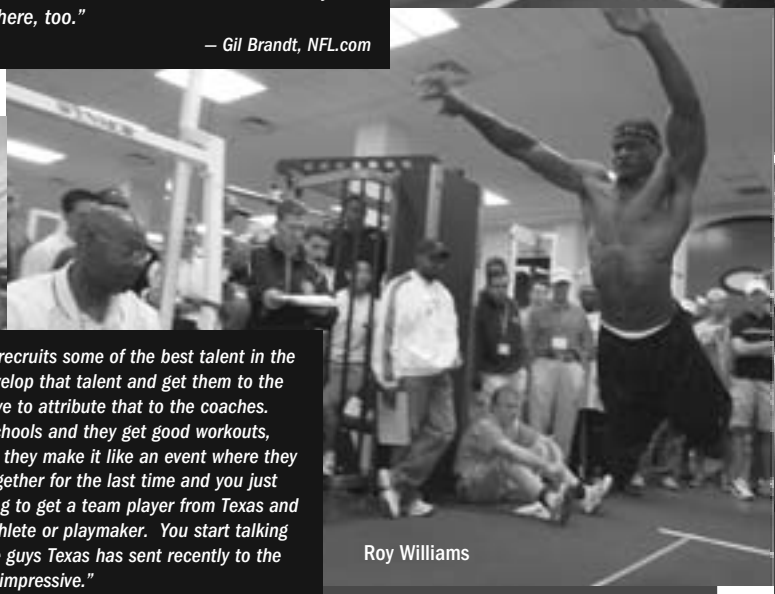
Brian Orakpo

"It's a Pro Day seemingly everybody wants to see. NFL Network had a setup there, and ESPN and various media outlets from across the country were there, too."
— Gil Brandt, NFL.com

Chris Ogbonnaya



Tim Crowder, Aaron Ross, Michael Griffin and Justin Blalock participated in the 2007 Senior Bowl.



Roy Williams

"Obviously, Texas recruits some of the best talent in the nation, and to develop that talent and get them to the next level, you have to attribute that to the coaches. You go to some schools and they get good workouts, but here at Texas, they make it like an event where they are all working together for the last time and you just know you are going to get a team player from Texas and not just a good athlete or playmaker. You start talking about some of the guys Texas has sent recently to the NFL and it is very impressive."
- Todd McShay, ESPN draft analyst

New Orleans Saints head coach Sean Payton watches film with Aaron Ross on a pre-draft visit to Austin.

Eighteen

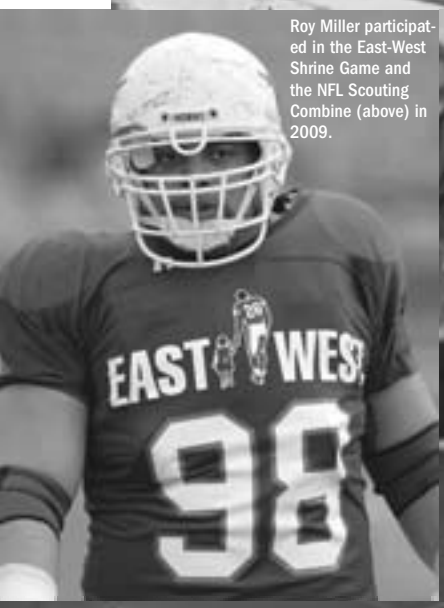
of Mack Brown's former players have been selected in the first round of the last 12 NFL Drafts. Fifty-five of Brown's former Texas and North Carolina players were selected in the 1998-2009 NFL Drafts.

The NFL Network regularly covers Texas' Pro Day in Austin.

"Pro Day was great.

The younger guys came out, Coach Brown, everybody was showing their support. It was a great showing of NFL scouts and coaches. It was a fun time."

— Quan Cosby, former UT and current Cincinnati Bengals WR



Roy Miller participated in the East-West Shrine Game and the NFL Scouting Combine (above) in 2009.

Vince Young

"Pro Day helped me

a lot. It felt great to see all the teams here, and not just watching me, but all of the guys. [The scouts] want to see our personalities and how we interact with other players. They saw us all working together."

— Vince Young, third overall pick and 2006 NFL Rookie of the Year

In 25 years as a head coach, Mack Brown has had 92 players selected in the NFL Draft.

Jamaal Charles

Quan Cosby participated in the 2009 Senior Bowl.

"The biggest thing we do is prepare our guys all year long so they can do their best at Pro Timing Day. From the time they arrive as freshmen, we have them doing the same drills that they'll do when they get to a combine situation."

— Jeff Madden, UT Assistant Athletics Director for Strength and Conditioning

Limas Sweed with Packers GM Ted Thompson

Dating back to 1986

when he was head coach at Tulane, Mack Brown has had at least one player selected in 24 straight NFL Drafts.

"To be able to have a Pro Day like this makes a lot of difference. You can come out with your teammates in your own environment and show your ability. We all support and motivate each other and it gets everyone to perform better in front of a full group of NFL coaches and scouts."

— Chris Ogbonnaya, former UT and current St. Louis Rams RB

"I think Texas is a classy place

They have guys with good character and guys that play hard, and those are the kinds of guys we're looking for. Texas players have historically been top of the line in terms of caliber of players, so they come into our league and they play well."

— Ted Thompson, Green Bay Packers executive vice president, general manager and director of football operations

Texas Angels and Gabriels

Comprised of students at The University, the Texas Angels and Gabriels are a group who assist in the day-to-day duties of the Texas football program. Providing campus and facilities tours, preparing scrapbooks for senior players and serving as mentors to freshman student-athletes are among the various other activities the group heads. They spend countless volunteer hours in promoting The University and assisting to ensure its first-class reputation in academics and athletics.
